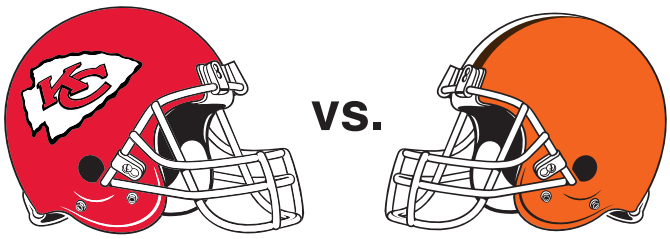
Kansas City Chiefs (7-1) at Cleveland Browns (2-5-1)
Sunday, Nov. 4, 2018 • 12 p.m. CT • CBS
FirstEnergy Stadium • Cleveland, Ohio



The Kansas City Chiefs travel to Cleveland to face the Browns at FirstEnergy Stadium. Kickoff on Sunday, Nov. 4, is slated for 12 p.m. CT. Chiefs Head Coach Andy Reid is 6-0 in his career against the Browns. Last Sunday, the Chiefs defeated the Denver Broncos 30-23 at Arrowhead Stadium to advance to 7-1 on the season. KC is 19-1 against AFC West opponents in the last 20 games. The Chiefs are 24-9 (.727) in AFC West play since 2013 and have won 39 of their last 50 regular season contests (.780).

Last Sunday's win marked Chiefs Head Coach Andy Reid's 201st career victory (regular and postseason combined), tying Dan Reeves for eighth on the all-time wins list. The Chiefs rank first in the NFL in scoring this season with 290 points over eight games (36.3 ppg). Chiefs QB Patrick Mahomes' 26 touchdown passes and 27 throws of 25-plus yards lead the league this season. He owns a league-best TD/INT differential (+20) and has tallied a franchise single-season record seven consecutive 300-plus yard passing games this season. The franchise record for TD passes in a single season is 30 (Len Dawson - 1964). TE Travis Kelce ranks second in the NFL in receiving yards for tight ends with 642 yards. He has caught a pass in 71 consecutive games and has three 100-yard receiving games this season (15 career). WR Tyreek Hill ranks first in the NFL with 11 catches of 25+ yards and seven touchdown receptions. WR Sammy Watkins has 453 yards on 34 catches and three TDs. RB Kareem Hunt leads the club with 134 rushes for 592 yards and five touchdowns. He has five receiving TDs and currently owns the NFL's longest streak of touches without a fumble (478 touches). His only career fumble was his first-ever NFL snap from scrimmage against the Patriots in last year's season opener. Hunt ranks second in the AFC and sixth in the NFL in scrimmage yards (854).

KC has forced 12 turnovers this season (eight INTs, four fumble recoveries) and allowed only seven takeaways (six INTs, one fumble), tied for the third-fewest mark in the league. The club has a +5 turnover differential. LB Dee Ford leads the team with 8.0 sacks and S Ron Parker has two INTs. On special teams, P Dustin Colquitt has punted only 21 times this season and holds a net average of 42.4. K Harrison Butker has made 13 of 14 field goal attempts and 35 of 36 extra points this season. Chiefs opponents have an average drive start of the 24.8 yard line, the second-best mark in the NFL.

Reid is in his sixth season with the club, recording 60 wins with the Chiefs, marking the highest combined win total of any head coach in franchise history in that time frame. The Chiefs have made the playoffs four out of the past five years under Reid and earned back-to-back AFC West Championships in 2016 and 2017. The 2018 Chiefs feature several new faces. Chiefs GM Brett Veach added WR Sammy Watkins, LB Anthony Hitchens, CB Kendall Fuller and DT Xavier Williams among others this offseason to boost the roster. Next week the Chiefs return to Arrowhead Stadium to face the Arizona Cardinals on Nov. 11. Kickoff is slated for 12 p.m. CT.

CHIEFS HEAD COACH ANDY REID

Reid is in his 27th NFL season, 20th as a head coach and sixth with the Chiefs. In six seasons with the club he's tallied 60 wins, more victories than any other head coach in franchise history in that timeframe.

Under Reid, the Chiefs have made the playoffs four of his first five seasons. The club earned back-to-back AFC West Titles in 2016 and '17 for the first time in franchise history. In 2016, Kansas City went 12-4 and won the AFC West, earning a first-round bye in the playoffs. In 2015, the Chiefs won their first playoff game since 1994, defeating the Texans 30-0. The team finished 11-5 after a 1-5 start in 2015. It was the greatest turnaround in a single-season in NFL history. In 2013, Reid led the Chiefs to an 11-5 record marking the greatest single-season turnaround in franchise history after the team finished 2-14 in 2012. Reid boasts a career record of 190-121-1 (.611) in the regular season. He also owns an 11-13 postseason record. Prior to joining the Chiefs, Reid led the Eagles to a 130-93-1 (.583) regular season record during his 14 seasons as head coach. He led the Eagles franchise to one Super Bowl appearance. When you include his time as an NFL assistant coach, his teams have made the playoffs 19 times (20-17 record), and he has coached in three Super Bowls and eight NFC Championships.

Reid spent seven seasons as an assistant coach with the Green Bay Packers under Head Coach Mike Holmgren. Prior to joining the NFL ranks, Reid's final collegiate stop was the University of Missouri (1989-91). Prior to his stint with the Tigers, Reid spent two years working with the offensive line at the University of Texas – El Paso, and before that, he held the same position with Northern Arizona.

In 1983, Reid took the position of offensive coordinator and offensive line coach at San Francisco State (1983-85). A tackle/guard at Brigham Young University from 1979-81, Reid entered the coaching ranks as a graduate assistant at BYU in 1982.

MCCULLOUGH'S AMAZING STORY

Kansas City Chiefs Running Backs Coach Deland McCullough was featured on ESPN's E:60, highlighting his inspirational journey to discovering his birth parents.

The feature, which aired on Sunday, Sept. 2, documents the life of McCullough, who was adopted at birth, and his search for his biological parents that spanned more than 40 years. That alone makes for a powerful story, but as it turns out, McCullough was already plenty familiar with his biological father – a man he had known since he was a kid, a man that was a mentor and father-figure who goes by the name of Sherman Smith. It's a story that defies the odds as his father was unaware that he had a son, but still served as an instrumental figure throughout McCullough's life.

"If you would have told me to pick who my father was, there's no way I would have picked him because I might have thought I wasn't worthy for him to be my father," McCullough said. "I felt like my blessings came full circle because I'd always wanted to be somebody like him."

THE BEST IN CHIEFS HISTORY

In his first six seasons as head coach of the Chiefs, Andy Reid coached his team to a 60-28 record in the first 88 games. His 68.2 winning percentage is the top mark in franchise history for any coach in his first six seasons leading the club. Marty Schottenheimer is second on that list, leading his Chiefs teams to a 55-32-1 (63.1%) record.

Most Regular Season Wins, First 6 Years with Team

Rk.	Name	Yr. 1	Yr. 2	Yr. 3	Yr. 4	Yr. 5	Yr. 6	Tot. Rec.
1.	Reid	11-5	9-7	11-5	12-4	10-6	7-1	60-28

5.	Levy	4-12	7-9	8-8	9-7	3-6	--	31-42

In Reid's 88 total games with the Chiefs, he registered a 33-11 (75.0%) record at home and a 27-17 (61.4%) record on the road.

HE WINS AT HOME AND ON THE ROAD

No matter where his team is playing, home or away, Chiefs Head Coach Andy Reid is consistent. Through 20 seasons and 312 games, Coach Reid has a similar record on the road as he does at home.

CHIEFS EMBRACING NEW HELMET TECHNOLOGY

The Kansas City Chiefs were among the league-leaders when it came to the number of orders placed for the new Vicis ZERO1 helmet, according to Chiefs Director of Equipment Allen Wright.

The helmet consists of technology that's new to the industry.

The "ZERO1" features a soft outer shell and an underlying layer of columns designed to mitigate collisions from multiple directions.

It's the first helmet that's made of a flexible polymer on the outside that deforms upon impact, much like that of a bumper on a car. It reduces the overall impact to the head, and it's being used by many players around the league and the Chiefs. Kansas City currently has 40 players in Vicis helmets including: QB Patrick Mahomes, WR Sammy Watkins, S Eric Berry, and C Mitch Morse, among others.

In collaboration with the NFL and the NFLPA, the 2017 helmet laboratory testing performance results chart, which is posted in locker rooms across the NFL, has the ZERO1 ranked as the best helmet on the market to reduce head impact severity.

The Lorain, Ohio, native, originally entered the NFL as a fourth-round selection (119th overall) of the Cowboys in the 2014 NFL Draft.

Williams (6-2, 309) has played in 23 games (two starts) in three NFL seasons with the Arizona Cardinals (2015-17). CHIEFS P DUSTIN COLQUITT SIGNS EXTENSION

The Kansas City Chiefs announced on March 15 that punter Dustin Colquitt signed an extension with the club.

"Dustin has played an important role in our team's success the last five seasons, and has consistently performed at a high level his entire career here," General Manager Brett Veach said. "He wanted to be in Kansas City, and we are happy to keep him here for the foreseeable future."

"Dustin is without a doubt one of the best punters in the National Football League," Head Coach Andy Reid said. "He's been critical for us in flipping field position and pinning opponents deep. Off the field he's been a staple in the community, and we are glad he's staying with us."

Colquitt (6-3, 210) has played in 206 games in 13 seasons with the Chiefs (2005-17). His career numbers include 1,031 punts for 46,246 yards (44.9 avg.) with 90 touchbacks and 420 inside the 20. He holds a career net average of 39.7 yards and a long of 81 yards. Colquitt holds many Chiefs records for punting, including highest career average (44.9), highest net average (39.7) and most career punts inside the 20 (420). Colquitt has earned Pro Bowl honors twice, his first following the 2012 season and his most recent following the 2016 season. He has the third-most games played in franchise history (206).

The Knoxville, Tennessee, native, originally entered the NFL as Kansas City's third-round draft pick (99th overall) in the 2005 NFL Draft.

CHIEFS TRADE FOR CB KENDALL FULLER

The Kansas City Chiefs announced on March 14 that the club had acquired CB Kendall Fuller in a trade with the Washington Redskins.

The trade between the Chiefs and the Redskins sent QB Alex Smith to Washington in exchange for a 2018 third-round draft pick and Fuller.

"We're excited to have Kendall join our secondary," Chiefs General Manager Brett Veach said. "He's an ascending player with strong cover skills and a phenomenal work ethic. He'll add value and versatility to our defense."

Fuller (5-11, 198) played in 29 games (12 starts) in two seasons with the Washington Redskins, logging 94 tackles (74 solo), including two for a loss, four interceptions, 12 passes defensed and a forced fumble. The Baltimore, Maryland, native entered the league as a third-round pick (84th overall) by Washington in the 2016 NFL Draft.

CHIEFS NAME BIENIEMY OC

Head Coach Andy Reid and the Kansas City Chiefs announced on Jan. 9 that the club had named Eric Bieniemy the team's offensive coordinator.

"I've known Eric a long time, both as a player and a coach," Reid said. "He's done a phenomenal job with our running backs and has been involved in every aspect of our offense over the last five years. He's a great teacher and has earned this opportunity. I know he will do a good job."

Bieniemy will enter his 11th season as a coach in the National Football League in 2018 and his sixth season with the Chiefs, after serving as the club's running backs coach for five seasons (2013-17).

Under Bieniemy's tutelage in 2017, rookie running back Kareem Hunt earned the NFL's rushing title and a Pro Bowl berth with 1,327 rushing yards. Hunt had 10 games with 100-plus scrimmage yards. In 2016, RB Spencer Ware and Charcandrick West appeared as a double threat. Ware had 921 rushing yards and three rushing TDs and West rushed for 293 yards with a touchdown. Bieniemy also mentored RB Jamaal Charles, the franchise's all-time leading rusher, for four seasons (2013-16).

He spent nine seasons as an NFL running back with the Chargers (1991-94) and Bengals (1995-98) and spent the 1999 season with the Eagles under Head Coach Andy Reid.

CHIEFS NAME TOUB ASSISTANT HEAD COACH

The Kansas City Chiefs announced on April 6 that Head Coach Andy Reid named Dave Toub the team's assistant head coach.

"Dave has had the opportunity to work with our team on both sides of the football, on the field and in the classroom," Reid said. "His leadership qualities have entrusted me to promote him to Assistant Head Coach."

Toub enters his sixth season with the Chiefs in 2018. Since Toub's arrival in 2013, the Chiefs have 10 special teams touchdowns (six punt, four kickoff), which is the most in the NFL over that span. The Chiefs took over the top mark for kick return average in NFL history in 2013 averaging 29.9 yards per return.

DUVERNAY-TARDIF GETS HIS M.D.

To some, playing in the National Football League is the second-most impressive accomplishment on Laurent Duvernay-Tardif's resume.

On May 29, Duvernay-Tardif became the first practicing medical doctor on an NFL roster, graduating from McGill University in Montreal with his M.D.

Duvernay-Tardif was finishing his third year of med school at McGill at the time of the 2014 NFL Draft. With hopes of being selected on the second night, Duvernay-Tardif was unable to follow along live. Not that he didn't want to, he was just preoccupied in the ER assisting an emergency C-section for a premature newborn.

Though he wasn't selected on that second night, the Chiefs eventually used the 200th overall pick to acquire Duvernay-Tardif in the sixth round.

While spending much of his rookie season learning from the sidelines, Duvernay-Tardif appeared in 16 games while starting 13 in 2015 and 14 in 2016 and became the starting right guard during the 2017 season. His off-seasons are spent back in Montreal at various hospitals on rotations, where patients have begun to recognize the Canadian standout.

"It's been a great journey for the last four years," Duvernay-Tardif said. "I don't think it would have been possible if it was not for Coach Reid."

While football remains his number one priority right now, Duvernay-Tardif plans to someday pursue his medical goals of specializing as an Emergency Room doctor.

AN ALL DEFENSIVE 2018 DRAFT CLASS

The 2018 NFL Draft marked the first time in the modern era that the Kansas City Chiefs have taken a college defensive player with every selection in the draft.

With no first-round draft selection the Chiefs traded up from the 54th overall pick in the second round to the 46th overall pick in the second round to select LB Breeland Speaks. In the third round the Chiefs traded up from the 86th overall pick to the 75th overall pick in the third round to select DT Derrick Nnadi and selected LB Dorian O'Daniel with the 100th overall pick. This sparked a trend of selecting defensive players that lasted throughout the 2018 Draft leading to an all defensive draft class.

With the loss of several key defensive players during the offseason the Chiefs had a need to select young defensive talent to complement the club's stacked offensive roster.

The Chiefs selected S Armani Watts with the 124th overall pick in the fourth round and CB Tremon Smith with the 196th overall pick in the sixth round.

With their final draft choice of 2018 the Chiefs selected G Kahlil McKenzie with the 198th overall pick of the sixth round. Although McKenzie was a defensive tackle throughout college, the Chiefs drafted him with the idea of transforming him into an offensive lineman. The selection of McKenzie made for a record all-defensive draft for the Chiefs going into 2018.

CHIEFS COACHING STAFF CHANGES

The club continued to add to the coaching staff by hiring Deland McCullough to serve as the team's running backs coach, Jay Valai as a defensive quality control coach and David Girardi as the offensive quality control coach.

McCullough joins the Chiefs after spending the last eight years coaching in the collegiate ranks at USC (2017), Indiana (2011-16) and Miami of Ohio (2010). He spent two years as an NFL running back with the Bengals and the Eagles.

Valai joins the Chiefs coaching staff after spending the last two seasons as the University of Georgia's defensive quality control coach.

Girardi joins the Chiefs after seven years coaching at the collegiate level at Lafayette College (2017), Northwestern (2014-16), Geneva College (2013) and Seton Hill University (2011-12).

Additionally, this offseason, the club promoted Mike Kafka to quarterbacks coach after serving as the offensive quality control coach for the 2017 season. Mike Smith and Mark DeLeone were named the outside linebackers and inside linebackers coaches, respectively. Smith previously served as the assistant defensive line coach (2016-17) and DeLeone served as the club's assistant linebackers coach (2015-17) and defensive quality control coach (2013-14). After serving two seasons (2016-17) as the club's offensive quality control coach, Joe Bleymaier was promoted to the passing game analyst/assistant quarterbacks coach. Terry Bradden was also named a defensive quality control coach after serving as the team's defensive assistant in 2017. Corey Matthaei is now the assistant offensive line coach after serving as the assistant quarterbacks coach from 2015-17.

NEW YEAR NEW CHIEFS

Led by 22-year-old Patrick Mahomes at quarterback the 2018 Chiefs have an average age of 25.7 years old. This offseason, GM Brett Veach made significant moves to attract young talent to the Kansas City Chiefs like 25-year-old WR Sammy Watkins, 26-year-old LB Anthony Hitchens, 26-year-old DT Xavier Williams and 23-year-old CB Kendall Fuller.

"We have a lot of talent here," Veach said. "It's a lot of young talent which is exciting for the fans, but we realize there may be some growing pains, but we have guys that can straight up play football and they're exciting."

With the loss of veteran linebackers Derrick Johnson and Tamba Hali, the Chiefs are looking to their young talent to lead the team more than ever. After 13 seasons with the Chiefs, Johnson and the club decided to part ways following the 2017 season. Johnson left the Chiefs as the team's all-time leading tackler compiling 1,262 career stops (993 solo). Following a 12-year NFL career all spent with Kansas City, Hali will go down as one of the most successful pass rushers in franchise history.

Under the guidance of veteran linebacker Justin Houston, young talent like Anthony Hitchens, third-year LB Reggie Ragland and rookie linebacker and second-round draft pick Breeland Speaks have a chance to make a name for themselves in honor of Chiefs legends Derrick Johnson and Tamba Hali.

"Whether it's the quarterback position, inside linebacker position, outside linebacker position, you're missing a few of those guys and you have new guys coming in that you have an opportunity to see perform," Reid said. "That's exciting to me, I'm looking forward to that."

Protected by a veteran offensive line, second-year QB Patrick Mahomes has multiple young offensive weapons at his disposal. With the addition of WR Sammy Watkins, Mahomes also has third-year WR Tyreek Hill, second-year RB Kareem Hunt and sixth-year TE Travis Kelce to make up, arguably, one of the NFL's most dynamic offensive units.

In what some might consider a transition year, Reid and the Chiefs are ready to make an impact starting in 2018.

When speaking about his expectations for the 2018 Chiefs, Reid said, "We're striving to win a championship and then to consistently be in a position where we can win a championship as the years go on. And it starts today."

PRO FOOTBALL HALL OF FAMER EMMITT THOMAS

Pro Football Hall of Fame Cornerback Emmitt Thomas is in his ninth season as defensive backs coach with the Kansas City Chiefs. Thomas works alongside former NFL Cornerback Al Harris, who joined the Chiefs as a defensive assistant/secondary coach in 2013. Harris was promoted to Secondary/Cornerbacks Coach in 2016.

One of the best defenders in Chiefs history, Thomas finished his career with 58 interceptions – a Chiefs record – as well as five defensive touchdowns in 181 games, all with Kansas City. Thomas holds the Chiefs record for interception return yardage with 937 yards.

Thomas was a member of the Chiefs Super Bowl IV Championship squad and was elected to the Chiefs Hall of Fame in 1986 and the Pro Football Hall of Fame in 2008.

THE FIRST LADY OF FOOTBALL

Norma Hunt continues to play an integral part of the Chiefs in Kansas City. She owns the distinction of being the only woman known to have attended all 52 Super Bowls and was selected to preside over the coin toss at Super Bowl XLI along with Pro Football Hall of Fame quarterback Dan Marino. She is involved in numerous philanthropic and civic efforts in Kansas City and Texas. Her late husband, Lamar Hunt, was the guiding force behind the formation of the Kansas City Chiefs and the American Football League and was inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame in 1972. He, with the help of his family, coined the term “Super Bowl.”

Hunt, along with her daughter-in-law Tavia Hunt and granddaughter Gracie Hunt all participate in the NFL Women’s Apparel advertising campaigns. The Hunts have been featured alongside other female NFL leaders such as Charlotte Jones Anderson (Dallas Cowboys Executive Vice President/Chief Brand Officer and NFL Foundation chair), Suzanne Johnson (wife of New York Jets owner Woody Johnson) and Tanya Snyder (wife of Washington Redskins owner Dan Snyder).

DUVERNAY-TARDIF TEACHES NUTRITIONAL VALUES

When it comes to understanding the importance of healthy living, there may not be a better resource out there than Kansas City Chiefs offensive guard Laurent Duvernay-Tardif. Not only is the former sixth-round pick one of the best at his position in the NFL, but Duvernay-Tardif recently completed a six-year trek through medical school in his native Canada.

On Monday, Duvernay-Tardif - along with a handful of his teammates - chose to share that knowledge with more than 20 local kids at The University of Kansas Health System Training Complex.

"This idea started when I went to Steve Nelson's nutrition activity a few months ago," Duvernay-Tardif explained. "It's crazy the kind of impact that we can have. I'm doing a lot of stuff with kids back home about the importance of leading a healthy lifestyle, nutrition and physical activity, and we have the perfect setup here to bring in a group of people."

The kids were all members of BoysGrow, a local organization that teaches entrepreneurship to young men through agriculture.

"They were asking about the different food groups, the different types of proteins and carbohydrates, plus conditions like diabetes and hypertension and how to prevent those things," Duvernay-Tardif said. "I think we pushed it a lot, and the guys were really enjoying it and following it. They were super-educated, so it was a lot of fun."

CHIEFS INTRODUCE BUD LIGHT TOUCHDOWN CLUB

The Kansas City Chiefs announced last Tuesday that the club has reached an extension to an exclusive partnership agreement with Anheuser-Busch and Bud Light. As part of the extension, the Chiefs and Anheuser-Busch are introducing the Bud Light Touchdown Club.

Located on the field level behind the east endzone of Arrowhead Stadium, the Bud Light Touchdown Club is a lounge with bar tables, bar stools and includes fully-stocked fridges with free Anheuser-Busch products as well as non-alcoholic beverages. Fans 21 and older can win passes through Anheuser-Busch giveaways to this one-of-a-kind Arrowhead experience.

"Anheuser-Busch has been a loyal partner of the Chiefs for more than three decades," Chiefs President Mark Donovan said. "We have worked with them to develop ways in which fans can support and engage with the Chiefs in new and unique ways. The Bud Light Touchdown Club allows fans to get close to the action while enjoying time spent with friends."

The Bud Light Touchdown Club debuted in primetime on Sunday, Oct. 21, during NBC's "Sunday Night Football" when the Chiefs hosted the Cincinnati Bengals at Arrowhead.

TEAMSMILE HOSTS HOMETOWN HUDDLE

There was a dance floor, a DJ and even repeated visits from the Kansas City Chiefs amidst the cleanings and fillings on Tuesday afternoon as each kid took their turn in the chair. Clearly, this was not an ordinary dentist's office.

It was Arrowhead Stadium, and for a 12th consecutive year, the folks at TeamSmile - an organization co-founded by Chiefs' punter Dustin Colquitt - and the United Way provided hundreds of underserved kids with complimentary dental care.

"This is a great event that we look forward to every year. We've grown from being in tents outside to now being in here over the last five or six years," Colquitt said. "We've seen more and more kids every year - kids from all over our community here in Kansas City - so we get a chance to serve the people that are cheering for us on Sunday."

The event brought together 20 dentists from throughout the metro area, along with dental students from UMKC, all in the name of helping children in need of care.

"These kids don't have dental insurance, and some of them have never seen the dentist, so with the help of the Chiefs and Dustin Colquitt, we're out here with volunteer dentists, dental assistants and hygienists," said Dr. Bill Bush, who co-founded TeamSmile along with Colquitt. "They all closed their offices down for the day to provide free dental work all day long."
Those efforts served more than 300 kids with $250,000 worth of dental work on Tuesday, continuing a mission that began for Bush and Colquitt over a decade ago.

"I think our most tender stories are when kids come in and have their lips wrapped around their teeth, and they're afraid to show what they've got, but when they leave, they have these big smiles," Colquitt explained. "It kind of changes the perception of what dentistry can do for a kid's overall well-being and their confidence."

Indeed, the goal of TeamSmile goes beyond just oral care and strives to encourage full-body health.

"It all starts with the idea of a smile, but it's full-body health," Colquitt said. "The kids come in here to get their teeth cleaned, but once they leave, they realize that everything that we put in our body goes through our mouth, and if that's clean, then your whole body is healthy."

CHIEFS FANS SET WORLD RECORD

On Monday, Sept. 29, 2014, Kansas City defeated the New England Patriots 41-14, and Chiefs fans set a Guinness World Record for Loudest Crowd Roar at a Sports Stadium (Outdoors). Chiefs fans reached a peak decibel reading of 142.2 as Guinness World Records adjudicator Philip Robertson monitored the sound levels. The mark was set early in the contest while the club was on defense. The Arrowhead Stadium record passed the old record of 137.5 decibels and broke Seattle's record of 137.6. The Chiefs still hold the record nearly four years later.

THE ARROWHEAD ADVANTAGE

"The fans, they're phenomenal. 142.2 decibels, I never thought I would be fired up (for) decibel levels but I'm fired up for them. My ears are still ringing, I mean it was loud, loud down there. Like incredibly loud."
- Chiefs Head Coach Andy Reid

"It's a great feeling (playing at Arrowhead). On 3rd-and-long when you hear the crowd and you see the opposing quarterback yelling, trying to change the play and struggling to communicate with the offensive linemen. That's a great feeling because you know your percentage of getting a sack just went up. I love playing in front of our fans."
- LB Justin Houston

"A legendary environment like that at Arrowhead Stadium is something else. We're excited about it, we respect it, we realize that the environment is an issue and an element of play and it's something that we need to be prepared for and ultimately combat."
- Steelers Head Coach Mike Tomlin
