WEEKLY NEWS RELEASE

DEC. 24, 2019

CLEVELAND BROWNS (6-9) AT CINCINNATI BENGALS (1-14)

SEASON FINALE
WEEK 17, GAME 16
SUNDAY, DEC. 29
AT PAUL BROWN STADIUM

GAME NOTES

Kickoff: 1 p.m. Eastern.

Television: The game will air on FOX-TV. In Cincinnati, it will be carried by WXIX-TV (Ch. 19). Broadcasters are Brandon Gaudin (play-by-play), Robert Smith (analyst) and Megan Olivi (sideline reporter).

Radio: The game will air on the Bengals Radio Network, led by Cincinnati flagship stations WLW-AM (700), WCKY-AM (ESPN 1530; all sports) and WEBN-FM (102.7). Broadcasters are Dan Hoard (play-by-play) and Dave Lapham (analyst).

Setting the scene: The Bengals this week wrap up their 2019 season by hosting the division-rival Cleveland Browns at Paul Brown Stadium on Sunday. Cincinnati currently stands at 1-14, after falling 38-35 in a dramatic overtime battle at Miami last week.

"A lot of the things that we preach, and how we talk about what a Bengal is — a physical, hungry, accountable teammate who's willing to do his all to get the job done — I saw that so many times (against Miami)," said Bengals head coach Zac Taylor.

"We were on the road, and in a game that we could have been out of early — but we weren't. Our guys fought to the very end, and those are the things we need to continue to build off of."

Miami maintained a comfortable lead for much of the game, but Cincinnati stormed back for what will go down as one of the most dramatic comebacks in NFL history. The Bengals trailed by 23 points midway through the fourth quarter, before what seemed like an insignificant TD pass from QB Andy Dalton to TE C.J. Uzomah cut the Dolphins' lead to 16 with 6:15 to play.

Dalton then led Cincinnati on a 14-play, 63-yard drive that was capped by a three-yard TD pass to WR Tyler Boyd with 29 seconds remaining. Miami's lead was cut to eight, after Dalton found TE Tyler Eifert in the end zone for a successful two-point conversion.

The Bengals then recovered an onside kick by K Randy Bullock, who earlier in the game made a 57-yard FG, a career-long and the longest in Bengals history. Bullock became the first NFL player in four seasons to make a FG of at least 55 yards and convert a successful onside kick in the same game (the most recent had been Jets K Nick Folk on Oct. 25, 2015).

Four plays later, Dalton found Eifert in the end zone for a 25-yard TD as time expired. Dalton then ran in the two-point conversion himself to cap the furious comeback and send the game to overtime. According to the Elias Sports Bureau, it was the first-ever instance of a team scoring at least 16 points in the final 29 seconds of a game, regardless of the score at the time.

Cincinnati's momentum, though, stalled in OT. The Bengals went three-and-out on both of their offensive possessions in the extra period, while Miami used a time-consuming 10-play drive on their third possession of OT to set up a 37-yard game-winning FG as the extra period expired.

"For all the emotion we felt when we got back into it and got into overtime, you certainly felt like, 'We're going to go win this game. We're going to win it,'" Taylor said. "We fought our way back. But when you don't win in it, you're almost confused, to be quite frank with you."

This week, the Bengals will attempt to end their season on a high note.

Among the many storylines are HB Joe Mixon's pursuit of 1000 rushing yards for the second straight season (needs 25 yards), along with WR Tyler Boyd's pursuit of 1000 receiving yards for the second straight season (needs 13 yards). If they both hit their marks, they would join HB Rudi Johnson and WR Chad Johnson (2004-05 and '05-06) as the only duo in Bengals history to accomplish those feats together in back-to-back seasons.

Cleveland enters Sunday's season finale with a 6-9 record, after falling 31-15 at home to Baltimore last week.

The series: The Bengals lead 50-42 in the "Battle of Ohio" series and have won eight of the last 12 games. Home field has been a factor over the length of the series, as the Bengals lead 30-16 at home but trail 20-26 as the road club.

The Bengals have played more games against the Browns (92) than any foe except Pittsburgh. The Bengals have 101 all-time games against the Steelers.

The Browns won the two teams' first meeting this season, 27-19 on Dec. 8 at FirstEnergy Stadium.

More series notes:

- The Browns swept the Bengals in 2018. It was Cleveland's first season sweep over the Bengals since 2002.
- Cleveland's win in Game 11 last season snapped a seven-game Bengals winning streak against the Browns. That streak, the Bengals' longest in the series, began with the second meeting of 2014. The Bengals' previous longest streak had been a five-game run from Game 2 of 2004 through Game 2 of '06.
- The Browns' longest win streak over Cincinnati also has been seven games, extending from Game 2 of the 1992 season through Game 2 of '95.
- Since the Browns' rebirth in 1999, the Bengals lead 26-15, including 12-9 as the visiting team and 14-6 as the home team.

Complete Bengals-Browns series results entering this season are on page 207 of the Bengals' 2019 Media Guide.

Team bests from the series:

Bengals — MOST POINTS: 58, in a 58-48 victory at Paul Brown Stadium in 2004. LARGEST VICTORY MARGIN: 34, in a 37-3 win at Cleveland in 2015. FEWEST POINTS ALLOWED: 0 (four times), most recently in a 30-0 win in 2014 at Cleveland.

Browns — MOST POINTS: 51, in a 51-45 win at Cleveland in 2007. LARGEST VICTORY MARGIN: 34, in a 34-0 victory at Cincinnati in 1987. FEWEST POINTS ALLOWED: 0 (twice), most recently in an 18-0 win at Cleveland in 2001.

The last meeting: A summary of the last Bengals-Browns meeting on Dec. 8 at Cleveland is on page 21 of this news release.

Bengals seek to regain biggest 'Battle' margin: With its two victories over Cincinnati in 2018 and its win earlier this season, Cleveland has whittled the Bengals' largest lead of 11 games in the team's all-time series down to eight games. The Bengals' 11-game lead after the 2017 season set the benchmark for the biggest lead held by either side in the "Battle of Ohio" series, which began in 1970. This weekend's game at Paul Brown Stadium is the teams' second meeting this season.

The series began with the Browns winning six of the first seven, and their five-game margin at 6-1, after the first meeting of 1973, stands as their largest lead. The Bengals lead 49-35 since that Cleveland high-water mark. The Browns have not led the series since the end of 2005, when they held a 33-32 edge.

Since surrendering that 33-32 lead by giving up a sweep in the 2006 meetings, the Browns have twice pulled into ties — at 34-34 after game one of '07 and at 35-35 after game one of '08. But the Browns have now endured a 13-year stretch without a lead in the series. Barring possible additions to the series in postseason play, the Bengals cannot surrender their series lead until after the first game of 2023, at the earliest. The Browns could not lead again until after the second game of '23.

More Bengals-Browns facts: The first-ever Bengals-Browns meeting of any kind was Aug. 29, 1970. On that Saturday, the Browns were visitors for the second preseason game of Riverfront Stadium's debut year. The Bengals won 31-24, moving to 2-0 in preseason in their new home. Also:

- The Bengals were 17-10 against the Browns at Riverfront Stadium/Cinergy Field.
- The Browns were 17-8 against the Bengals at the old Cleveland Stadium, but the Bengals lead 12-9 at FirstEnergy Stadium (formerly Cleveland Browns Stadium).
- The Bengals and Browns never played at Nippert Stadium, as Nippert was the Bengals' American Football League home.
- The Bengals have posted 13 season sweeps, and the Browns have posted nine. The teams have split 23 times. In 1982, they played only once, with the scheduled contest at Cleveland cancelled due to a players' strike.
- The first Bengals-Browns regular-season game at Cincinnati on Nov. 15, 1970 drew the first home crowd of 60,000 in Bengals history (60,007 at Riverfront Stadium). The Bengals won 14-10 behind a 110-yard rushing effort from QB Virgil Carter, the only 100-yarder by a QB in Bengals history.
- The largest Bengals home crowd for a Browns game has been 66,072, on Sept. 17, 2006 at Paul Brown Stadium. That ranks as the fifth-largest crowd in Bengals history.
- The Browns drew the largest Bengals crowd in the Riverfront Stadium/Cinergy Field era — 60,284 for a 27-24 Browns win on Oct. 17, 1971.
- The Bengals and Browns met three times in preseason at Ohio Stadium in Columbus, from 1972-74. All were Sunday afternoon games, and the Browns won two of the three.

Coaches in 'Battle of Ohio:' Here are some notes about "Battle of Ohio" coaches:

- When Cincinnati's Zac Taylor and Cleveland's Freddie Kitchens met earlier this season on Dec. 8, it was just the second time in history that a Bengals-Browns meeting featured two rookie head coaches who faced both each other and their Ohio rival for the first time in the same game. The Browns won that contest at FirstEnergy Stadium, 27-19.

The first such instance occurred on Oct. 21, 1984, when Bengals first-year head coach Sam Wyche met Browns first-year head coach Marty Schottenheimer in Cincinnati at Riverfront Stadium. The Bengals won that meeting, 12-9.

The Bengals' Homer Rice and the Browns' Sam Rutigliano also were rookie head coaches when they met for the first time on Dec. 17, 1978 at Riverfront Stadium. However, that was Rutigliano's second "Battle of Ohio" as Cleveland's head coach. The two teams met in Game 2 that year, before Rice took the reins in Cincinnati (Rice was named Bengals head coach after Game 5).

- Former Bengals head coach Marvin Lewis, who was 22-10 overall against Cleveland, has the most total wins and best winning percentage (.688) of any Bengals head coach in the series. Lewis also has coached the most games (32) against Cleveland. Sam Wyche is second in all three categories, with 10 wins, a .625 winning percentage (10-6) and 16 games.

- Bill Belichick has been the top Browns coach in the series, having posted an 8-2 mark against the Bengals during his 1991-95 tenure.

- Lewis is the only Bengals head coach whose first Cincinnati victory came against Cleveland. Lewis took over as head coach in 2003, and his first win was a 21-14 decision at Cleveland on Sept. 28 of that year. The Bengals entered that game at 0-3, but went on to finish 8-8. The six-game improvement, after a 2-14 season in 2002, was the largest in the NFL for '03.

- Forrest Gregg is the only head coach to pilot both teams in the "Battle of Ohio." Gregg was 1-5 as Browns coach against the Bengals from 1975-77, and he was 3-4 as Bengals coach against the Browns from '80-83.

- Here's a full roundup of Bengals' head coaches, in chronological order, and their records in the "Battle of Ohio:" Paul Brown (5-7), Bill "Tiger" Johnson (3-2), Homer Rice (2-1), Forrest Gregg (3-4), Sam Wyche (10-6), Dave Shula (1-7), Bruce Coslet (2-1), Dick LeBeau (2-3), Marvin Lewis (22-10).

- The Bengals are 11-7 against Browns head coaches directing their first game in the series. Browns head coaches who won their first game have been Blanton Collier (1970), Nick Skorich ('71), Sam Rutigliano ('78), Bill Belichick ('91), Rob Chudzinski (2013), Mike Pettine (2014) and Freddie Kitchens ('19). On the losing end for Cleveland have been Forrest Gregg (1975), Marty Schottenheimer ('84), Bud Carson ('89), Jim Shofner ('90), Chris Palmer ('99), Butch Davis (2001), Romeo Crennel ('05), Eric Mangini ('09), Pat Shurmur ('11), Hue Jackson ('16) and Gregg Williams ('18).

- Bengals coaches show a 7-3 record the first time out against Cleveland. The seven winners have been Bill Johnson (1976), Homer Rice ('78), Sam Wyche ('84), Dave Shula ('92), Bruce Coslet ('99), Dick LeBeau (2000) and Marvin Lewis ('03). Losing in the first try vs. Cleveland were Paul Brown (1970), Forrest Gregg ('80) and Zac Taylor (2019).

That '16 game in Cincy was something: For the Bengals, their 559-yard offensive game vs. Cleveland on Oct. 23, 2016 was:

- The highest yardage output in 26 years, since 582 in an overtime win at the Los Angeles Rams on Oct. 7, 1990.
- The highest output in a regulation-time game since Dec. 17, 1989, when the total was 584 vs. Houston.
- Tied for the seventh highest offensive total in franchise history.
- The game with the most rushing yards (271) in more than 30 years, since the team had 274 on Dec. 8, 1985 vs. Dallas. It ranks No. 7 in franchise history.
- The first game in which the Bengals had a 300-yard passer (Andy Dalton 308), a 100-yard rusher (Jeremy Hill 168) and a 100-yard receiver (A.J. Green 169) in a regulation-time game since Sept. 16, 2007 at Cleveland. Cincinnati also did it on Oct. 12, 2014 vs. Carolina, but that was a tie that went five full quarters.
- The game with the most yards per rush (9.0) since Oct. 22, 2000, when the Bengals averaged 11.0 vs. Denver. That Denver game featured a club-record 407 rushing yards, including a club-record 278 by HB Corey Dillon, which was the NFL individual record at the time.

At the top of the list: Here's a look at where the Bengals rank — both individually and in team categories — among the top 10 in the NFL.

BRANDON WILSON (Reserve/Injured)

- First in yards per kickoff return (31.3).
- Fifth in kickoff return yards (625).
- Tied for first in kickoff returns of at least 40 yards (four).
- Sixth in kickoff returns of at least 20 yards (16).

BENGALS TEAM:

- Third in yards gained per kickoff return (26.4).
- Fourth in yards allowed per kickoff return (19.1).
- Third in average starting field position (26.6).
- Third in opponents' average starting field position (23.6).
- Sixth in yards allowed per punt return (5.5).
- Sixth in fewest penalties (90).
- Sixth in fewest penalty yards (741).
- Sixth in defensive red-zone TD percentage (49.0)

And here are the Bengals' and the Browns' overall NFL rankings:

Bengals career records watch: Here is a look at potential upcoming movement in the Bengals' career records book (regular season):

- QB Andy Dalton has 4421 career pass attempts, 54 behind QB Ken Anderson (4475) for the Bengals' all-time lead.
- DE Carlos Dunlap has 79 career sacks, 4.5 shy of DE Eddie Edwards* (83.5) for the Bengals' all-time lead. Dunlap passed DT Geno Atkins (75.5) for second place all-time in Game 12 vs. the N.Y. Jets.

• Atkins has 75.5 career sacks, 3.5 shy of Dunlap (79) for second place all-time. Edwards* (83.5) is the Bengals' all-time leader.

• Bengals WR Alex Erickson has 110 career punt returns, 20 shy of CB Lemar Parrish (130) for third place all-time. WR Brandon Tate (153) is the Bengals' all-time leader. Erickson passed S Tommy Casanova (91) for fifth place all-time in Game 3 at Buffalo, and then passed CB Adam Jones (98) for fourth place all-time in Game 10 at Oakland.

• Erickson has 841 career punt return yards, 274 shy of Jones (1115) for fourth place all time. Tate (1411) is the Bengals' all-time leader. Erickson passed Casanova (784) for fifth place all-time in Game 11 vs. Pittsburgh.

• Erickson has 104 career kickoff returns, 11 shy of FB Eric Ball (115) for fifth place all-time. S/CB Tremain Mack (146) is the Bengals' all-time leader.

• Erickson has 2575 career kickoff return yards, 177 behind RB Stanford Jennings (2752) for fourth place all-time. Mack (3583) is the all-time leader.

• Bengals S Brandon Wilson (Reserve/Injured) has one career kickoff return for a TD, one shy of Mack (two) for the Bengals' all-time lead.

• WR A.J. Green has 63 career receiving TDs, three behind WR Chad Johnson (66) for the Bengals' all-time lead.

• Green has 63 total TDs, one short of WR Carl Pickens and RB James Brooks (both with 64) for third place all-time. FB Pete Johnson (70) is the Bengals' all-time leader.

*—The NFL has counted sacks as official statistics since 1982. However, the Bengals have sacks compiled since 1976 and recognize those sacks recorded from '76-81 in their records. Thus, please note that, because the NFL has sacks for all teams only since 1982, the Bengals' sack statistics for players whose careers included seasons prior to '82 will not be included in league information.

Records vs. Browns: The two highest-scoring games in Bengals history have each been against the Browns. On Nov. 28, 2004 at Paul Brown Stadium, the Bengals won 58-48, and the 106 total points is not only a Bengals record, it is the second-most in NFL history, behind only 113 from Washington's 72-41 win over the N.Y. Giants in 1966. And on Sept. 16, 2007, the Bengals and Browns combined for 96 points at Cleveland in a 51-45 Browns win.

More on Bengals records against the Browns:

• On Dec. 21, 1980 vs. Cleveland, DE Eddie Edwards set the Bengals record for sacks in a game with five. The mark stood unchallenged for 19 years, until DE Antwan Odom tied it on Sept. 20, 2009 at Green Bay.

• In the final Bengals game at Cinergy Field, on Dec. 12, 1999, Cincinnati limited the Browns to the fewest rushing yards ever by an opponent. Cleveland had only 11 net yards on 11 attempts.

• On Sept. 10, 2000, WR Craig Yeast tied a Bengals record for most punt returns in a game with seven. The record was set by RB Tony Davis in 1977, and in addition to Yeast, has since been tied by WR Brandon Tate in 2011.

• On Nov. 25, 2001 at Cleveland, T.J. Houshmandzadeh set the Bengals record for punt return yards in a game with 126. His 86-yarder in that game ranks tied for third-longest in club history.

• The 58-48 Bengals win on Nov. 28, 2004 is the only game in club history in which Cincinnati scored double figures in all four quarters (14-13-14-17 — 58).

• In the Sept. 16, 2007 shootout with the Browns noted above, QB Carson Palmer threw six TD passes, the most ever by a Bengals QB in a single game.

• On Dec. 21, 2008, at Cleveland, Bengals CB Leon Hall tied the team record for most interceptions in a game with three. He was the seventh Bengal to reach that mark in a contest, though no one has done it since.

• On Nov. 17, 2013, the Bengals scored 31 points in the second quarter, a team record for most points in a quarter, en route to a 41-20 Cincinnati victory.

• In their 30-0 win at Cleveland on Dec. 14, 2014, the Bengals allowed only five first downs, fewest by an opponent in Bengals history.

• On Oct 23, 2016 against Cleveland, HB Jeremy Hill had the most rushing yards in club history without hitting double digits in carries, breaking a mark that had stood for 45 years. Hill went nine-for-168, averaging 18.7 yards per carry.

Individually vs. Browns: Here is a look at the stats for current Bengals offensive players against Cleveland (ordered by total games played):

• QB Andy Dalton: 16 games (11-5 W-L record); 463 attempts and 295 completions (63.7 percent) for 3356 yards (209.8 per game), 27 TDs and 13 INTs (93.1 passer rating); 49 rushes for 176 yards (3.6) and one TD.

• WR A.J. Green (Reserve/Injured): 13 games; 62 receptions for 953 yards (15.4-yard average; 73.3 yards per game) with seven TDs.

• HB Giovani Bernard: 11 games; 81 rushes for 388 yards (4.8) and one TD; 25 receptions for 258 yards (10.3) and one TD.

• WR Alex Erickson: Seven games; Nine receptions for 114 yards (12.7);

One passing attempt and one completion for 26 yards.

• TE C.J. Uzomah: Seven games; 13 receptions for 107 yards (8.2) and one TD.

• WR Tyler Boyd: Six games; 23 receptions for 244 yards (10.6) and two TDs; Three rushes for 47 yards (15.7).

• TE Tyler Eifert: Six games; 19 catches for 213 yards (11.2) and five TDs.

• HB Joe Mixon: Five games; 94 rushes for 446 yards (4.8) and two TDs; 19 receptions for 186 yards (9.8).

• WR John Ross III: Three games; Six receptions for 62 yards (10.3) and two TDs; One rush for seven yards.

• WR Auden Tate (Reserve/Injured): Three games; Three receptions for 31 yards (10.3).

Uniform watch: The Bengals are scheduled to wear black jerseys and black pants this week vs. Cleveland.

Since 2004, the year of the Bengals' last significant uniform redesign, a number of color options for jerseys and pants have been available. Below are the records (regular season plus postseason) for the different combinations:

JERSEY	PANTS	W-L-T	PCT.
Orange*	Black.....	6-1-0	.857
Orange*	White.....	16-7-1	.688
Black	Black.....	17-17-1	.500
Black	White.....	36-37-1	.493
White	Black.....	28-39-0	.418
White (CR)*	White (CR)*	2-3-0	.400
White	White.....	19-30-0	.388

* — NFL rules allow teams to wear designated alternate jerseys, color rush (CR) uniforms and/or throwback uniforms for a combined total of three regular-season games. As in years past, orange served as the Bengals' designated alternate jersey, and for the third straight year, the team used their color rush uniforms (white jersey, white pants), which debuted in 2016. Cincinnati does not have a throwback uniform.

THE HEAD COACHES

Zac Taylor was named the 10th head coach in Cincinnati Bengals history on Feb. 4, 2019. He comes to Cincinnati after two seasons with the L.A. Rams, where he served as assistant wide receivers coach in 2017 and quarterbacks coach in '18.

In 2018, Taylor helped guide Rams QB Jared Goff to career highs in every major passing category — completions (364), attempts (561), passing yards (4688), passing TDs (32), completion percentage (64.9), yards per attempt (8.36) and passer rating (101.1). Goff ranked fourth in the NFL in passing yards and eighth in passer rating. The Rams' QB play was a key component to their offense, which finished the regular season ranked second in the NFL in total net yards (421.1 per game), fifth in net passing yards (281.7), second in scoring (32.9), first in first downs (401) and fifth in third-down percentage (45.0). Los Angeles won the NFC West with a 13-3 regular-season record and advanced to Super Bowl LIII against the New England Patriots.

In 2017, Taylor helped oversee an emerging Rams passing offense that ranked 10th in the NFL in pass yards per game (239.4). Taylor directed the Rams' young receiving corps, headed by rookie Cooper Kupp, who finished the season with 62 catches, a team-high 869 receiving yards and five TDs. Kupp (869 yards), TE Gerald Everett (244) and WR Josh Reynolds (104) — all rookies — helped the Rams finish with the third-most receiving yards among rookie pass catchers.

Prior to his time with the Rams, Taylor had a one-year stint in the college ranks, serving as offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach at the University of Cincinnati in 2016. Taylor served under head coach Tommy Tuberville at UC.

Taylor broke into NFL coaching in 2012 with the Miami Dolphins as assistant quarterbacks coach. He was elevated to quarterbacks coach from 2013-15, and spent the final five games of '15 as the Dolphins' interim offensive coordinator and primary play-caller, after the team made coaching staff changes in late November. During his time in Miami, Taylor was instrumental in the development of QB Ryan Tannehill, the team's first-round draft pick in 2012.

Taylor's coaching career began at Texas A&M University, where he served as offensive graduate assistant and tight ends coach under head coach Mike Sherman from 2008-11. The Aggies shared the Big 12 South Championship in 2010 and played in three bowl games during Taylor's time in College Station.

As a player, Taylor began his collegiate career at Wake Forest (2002-03), before transferring to Butler County Community College in Kansas ('04) and then playing his final two seasons ('05-06) at the University of Nebraska. Taylor had a decorated career with the Cornhuskers, setting numerous school records and passing for a combined 5850 yards and 45 touchdowns. In his senior season of 2006, Taylor was named Big 12 Offensive Player of the Year after passing for 3197 total yards and leading the Cornhuskers to a 9-3 record, an appearance in the Big 12 Championship Game and a berth in the Cotton Bowl. He was inducted into the Nebraska Football Hall of Fame in 2017.

Taylor joined the Tampa Bay Buccaneers as a college free agent in 2007, but he was waived prior to the start of training camp and never saw NFL action. Later that year, he joined the Winnipeg Blue Bombers of the Canadian Football League, where he spent one season (did not play).

His father, Sherwood, was a defensive back and captain at the University of Oklahoma, playing under Sooners head coach Barry Switzer from 1976-79. Sherwood Taylor later served as an assistant coach at Oklahoma and Kansas State University. Taylor's brother, Press, played quarterback at Marshall University and is currently quarterbacks coach for the Philadelphia Eagles.

Taylor was born on May 10, 1983, in Norman, Okla., where he was raised and later attended Norman High School. He earned a bachelor's degree in communication studies from the University of Nebraska in 2006. He and his wife, Sarah, have four children — Brooks, Luke, Emma Claire and Milly. Sarah Taylor is the daughter of former Green Bay Packers and Texas A&M head coach Mike Sherman.

Freddie Kitchens was named the 17th head coach in Cleveland Browns history by Owners Dee and Jimmy Haslam on Jan. 9, 2019.

Kitchens has over 20 years of coaching experience. He joined the Browns as running backs/associate head coach in 2018 and was promoted to offensive coordinator in the same season. After his promotion, the Browns finished among the league leaders in several categories, including yards per game (No. 4 at 395.1), passing touchdowns (tied for No. 4 with 19) and total touchdowns (tied for No. 6 with 25). He also has coached with the Arizona Cardinals (2007-17) and the Dallas Cowboys ('06).

Kitchens was a three-year starter at quarterback for Alabama (1995-97), finishing his playing career with 4,668 yards and 30 touchdown passes. He coached at Glenville State (1999), Louisiana State (2000), North Texas ('01-03) and Mississippi State ('04-05).

Kitchens was born on Nov. 29, 1974 and is a native of Gadsden, Ala.. He and his wife, Ginger, have two daughters, Bennett and Camden.

Taylor vs. Browns: The Browns lead, 1-0.

Taylor vs. Kitchens: Kitchens leads, 1-0.

Kitchens vs. Bengals: Kitchens leads, 1-0.

BENGALS NOTES

Gio closes in on J.B.: HB Giovani Bernard currently stands within striking distance of the Bengals' all-time leads in both receptions and receiving yards by a running back, which are both held by RB James Brooks. With 295 career receptions, Bernard stands two shy of James Brooks' record of 297. And with 2512 receiving yards, Bernard is 500 short of Brooks' record of 3012. Brooks played eight seasons with the Bengals (1984-91), while 2019 is Bernard's seventh.

Bernard averaged 898 yards from scrimmage in his first six NFL seasons — 518 rushing, 380 receiving — although his pursuit of Brooks' records has been slowed slightly by injuries in recent years. In 2018, he got off to a fast start before a knee injury sidelined him for four games. He also missed the final six games of 2016 due to a torn ACL in his left knee.

Boyd eyeing another thousand: WR A.J. Green has missed the entire 2019 season due to an ankle injury, which means WR Tyler Boyd has again been thrust into the spotlight as the Bengals No. 1 WR. It's familiar territory for the fourth-year pro. Boyd served in the same role the second half of last season while Green was out with a foot injury, and he ended the year with a career-high 1028 receiving yards despite missing the final two games with his own injury. That made him the first Bengal other than Green to top 1000 receiving yards in a season since 2009 (Chad Johnson, 1047).

Boyd has seized his opportunity this season, and is again in position to top 1000 receiving yards. He currently has a team-high 987 receiving yards, just 13 shy of 1000 and 41 shy of his total from a year ago.

Boyd already stands as one of nine Bengals ever to reach 1000 receiving yards in a season, and he's attempting to become just the sixth Bengal to hit the mark in multiple seasons. Johnson's seven 1000-yard seasons stand as the most in team history, followed by Green (six), WR Cris Collinsworth (four), WR Carl Pickens (four) and WR T.J. Houshmandzadeh (two). WRs Eddie Brown, Tim McGee and Darnay Scott each had one 1000-yard season.

Mixon nearing his own thousand: Bengals HB Joe Mixon has rushed for 975 yards this season, and stands just 25 shy of reaching 1000 rushing yards for the second straight year.

If Mixon reaches 1000 rushing yards on Sunday, it would be the 22nd 1000-yard rushing season in team history. Mixon is also looking to join just four other players as the only Bengals ever to rush for 1000 yards in multiple seasons — Corey Dillon (six times), Rudi Johnson (three), James Brooks (three) and Cedric Benson (three). A player rushing for 1000 yards in back-to-back seasons has happened 11 times in team history, and was most recently accomplished by Benson in 2010-11.

Boyd-Mixon duo approaching rare air: With HB Joe Mixon just 25 rushing yards away from 1000 on the season, and WR Tyler Boyd just 13 receiving yards away from 1000 on his season, the Bengals are poised to have a 1000-yard rusher and receiver in the same season for the 15th time in team history.

But only one other Bengals duo has accomplished those feats together in back-to-back seasons. HB Rudi Johnson and WR Chad Johnson did it twice — in the 2004-05 seasons, and '05-06 seasons.

Bengals aim for 1K/1K/3K feat: In the Bengals' 51 seasons, there have been only 12 instances where the team has had a 1000-yard rusher, 1000-yard receiver and 3000-yard passer in the same season. The feat was last accomplished in 2014, by QB Andy Dalton (3398), WR A.J. Green (1041) and HB Jeremy Hill (1124). This Sunday, Cincinnati has a chance to do it again.

Dalton has already taken care of his end of the deal, after surpassing 3000 passing yards last Sunday at Miami (currently has 3304). Dalton has now topped the 3000-yard passing mark in eight of his nine Bengals seasons, with the only outlier being last year, when he missed the final five games due to a thumb injury (ended with 2566 in 11 games).

HB Joe Mixon currently has 975 rushing yards on the season, and stands just 25 shy of 1000. It would be Mixon's second career 1000-yard rushing season (see "Joe closing in on 1K again").

WR Tyler Boyd currently has 987 receiving yards, just 13 shy of 1000 for the year. It would be Boyd's second career 1000-yard receiving season (see "Boyd eyeing another thousand").

The Bengals have had one season where four players joined in on the act — in 2006, HB Rudi Johnson rushed for 1309 yards, QB Carson Palmer threw for 4035 yards, WR Chad Johnson had 1369 receiving yards, and WR T.J. Houshmandzadeh had 1081 receiving yards.

Dalton joins 200-TD club: Already the Bengals' all-time leader in TD passes (see "Andy earns two Bengals records"), Bengals QB Andy Dalton tossed his 200th career TD pass last week at Miami. He now has 203 TD passes for his career, and is one of just 12 active QBs to reach the 200 plateau.

Here's a look at the active NFL QBs with at least 200 career TD passes.

PLAYER	CAREER TD PASSES	NFL EXP.
Drew Brees	544	19
Tom Brady	539	20
Philip Rivers	395	16
Eli Manning	366	16
Ben Roethlisberger	363	16
Aaron Rodgers	362	15
Matt Ryan	320	12
Matthew Stafford	256	11
Russell Wilson	225	8
Joe Flacco	218	12
Ryan Fitzpatrick	209	15
Andy Dalton	203	9

Ground game rolling behind Joe: After a slow start to the season on the ground, the Bengals' rushing game has surged in recent weeks.

Through their first seven games, the Bengals averaged just 53.1 rushing yards per game, and topped 100 rushing yards just once as a team. HB Joe Mixon had a notably difficult start, averaging just 36.2 yards per game and 3.2 yards per rush over that span, after leading the AFC in rushing last season (1168 yards).

Bengals head coach Zac Taylor noted recently that, as a result of those early season struggles, the coaching staff made significant changes to the running game and offensive line scheme over the team's Week 9 bye.

"It goes back to a lot of the guys on the coaching staff not having a big ego," Taylor said. "We felt like we got on track a little bit as we played the Rams (in Week 8), and then we spent the whole bye week studying ourselves and saying, 'OK, these are things that we've really spent a lot of time and energy on, it's just not paying off for us.' We just wanted to be efficient and give ourselves an opportunity. You need to evolve."

It's safe to say those changes worked. Since the first game after their bye — Week 10 vs. Baltimore — the Bengals have averaged 123.1 rushing yards per game, and topped 100 yards as a team in four of seven games.

Mixon, the former face of the Bengals' struggling ground game, has been perhaps the league's most productive runner over the last seven weeks. Since Week 10, Mixon leads the NFL in rushing attempts (151), ranks second in rushing yards (655), has topped 100 rushing yards three times, and has topped 100 yards from scrimmage four times. Those low rushing averages from early in the season have also flipped — he's averaged 93.6 yards per game and 4.3 yards per attempt since Week 10.

Andy earns two Bengals records: Andy Dalton returned to the Bengals' starting QB role in Game 12 vs. the N.Y. Jets, after serving in a reserve role for Games 9-11. And in his first game back, Dalton not only led the Bengals to their first win of the season, he passed former Bengals QB Ken Anderson for a pair of team records.

Dalton, who entered the Jets game tied with Anderson for a franchise-best 197 career TD passes, tossed his 198th career TD in the first quarter when he hit WR Tyler Boyd for a 17-yard score. Dalton had actually briefly passed Anderson in Game 8 against the L.A. Rams, when he found WR Auden Tate for a TD with eight seconds left in the game, but the score was taken off the board after replay review deemed it an incompleteness.

And then on the Bengals' next offensive possession, Dalton completed his 2655th career pass, passing Anderson (2654) for the Bengals' all-time lead.

Dalton set the records in his 129th career game (all starts) and in his ninth Bengals season, while Anderson played in 192 career games (172 starts) over a Bengals-record 16 seasons. Dalton, who stands second in Bengals history in completion percentage (62.00), tossed the record-setting TD on his 4265th career pass attempt, and set the completion mark on his 4267th attempt. Anderson had 4475 career pass attempts.

"Obviously I've been here a long time," Dalton said, "so it means a lot to me to have the opportunity to break Ken's records. I've known him a long time. I've been lucky to have played on some good offenses here. It's cool to break those records, and it gives me bragging rights now (laughs)."

Andy tops Kenny in total TDs: QB Andy Dalton's three rushing touchdowns this season have given him 22 total TDs for his career, the most by a QB in Bengals history. Dalton tied former Bengals QB Ken Anderson (20) for the lead in Game 3 at Buffalo, and then moved ahead of him in Game 6 at Baltimore with a two-yard rushing score in the fourth quarter. Dalton in 2019 is playing his ninth season, while Anderson played 16 Bengals seasons (1971-86).

Dalton's 21 career rushing TDs are now also the most ever by a Bengals QB, ahead of Anderson (20). All of Anderson's TDs were rushing scores, while Dalton has 22 total by virtue of being the only Bengals QB ever to catch a touchdown pass. He scored on an 18-yard gadget connection from WR Mohamed Sanu vs. Tennessee in 2014.

The next-most total TDs by a Bengals QB is 10, by Jeff Blake.

Dalton and Jack Thompson share the Bengals season record for touchdowns by a QB, at five. Dalton had five in 2014, tying the record first set by Thompson in 1979.

Dalton returns to starting role: On Nov. 25, the day after his team fell 16-10 to the Pittsburgh Steelers, Bengals head coach Zac Taylor announced at his news conference that Andy Dalton would return to the starting QB role for Game 12 vs. the N.Y. Jets.

Dalton replaced Ryan Finley, who had previously replaced Dalton during the Bengals' Week 9 bye. Finley started three games, and passed 41 of 87 for 474 yards, with two TDs and two INTs.

In his first game back as the No. 1 QB, Dalton led the Bengals to their first victory of the season, a 22-6 home win over the Jets. He passed 22 of 37 for 243 yards and a TD (88.0 rating). During the game, Dalton passed former Bengals QB Ken Anderson for a pair of team passing records — he now has 203 career TD passes (Anderson had 197), and 2741 completions (Anderson had 2654).

Dalton this season has passed 298 of 500, for 3304 yards, 15 TDs and 13 INTs.

"Andy gives us a great chance to go win a game," Taylor said of Dalton returning to the starting lineup. We just want to win. That veteran presence Andy has will certainly be helpful through all the things we've been experiencing so far on offense. He has great experience."

An Andy roundup: After serving in a reserve role for Games 9-11, QB Andy Dalton has returned to the Bengals' starting QB position. Dalton ranks among the most accomplished QBs in Bengals history. Here's an overview of his statistical accomplishments.

- He now stands as the Bengals' all-time leader in passing TDs (203) and completions (2741). Dalton passed former Bengals QB Ken Anderson (197 TDs, 2654 completions) in both categories in Game 12 vs. the N.Y. Jets.

- He also stands as the team's all-time leader in career passer rating (87.6) and 300-yard passing games (28), and is second in career passing yards (31,404) and completion percentage (62.00).

- He has posted 49 career games with a passer rating of 100 or more, and the Bengals are 39-10 (.800) in those contests.

- His 203 career TD passes and 117 INTs are good for a ratio of 1.74-to-1, the best in Bengals history ahead of second-place Carson Palmer at 1.54-to-1 (154-100).

- His 24 game-winning drives are the most in Bengals history ahead of Boomer Esiason (22). A game-winning drive is defined as a drive that results in an offensive score in the fourth quarter or overtime that is responsible for putting the team ahead to stay (PATs included).

- His 22 total TDs are the most ever by a Bengals QB, ahead of Ken Anderson (20).

- His 21 rushing TDs also are the most ever by a Bengals QB, ahead of Anderson (20).

- He holds club season records for passing yards (4293) and TD passes

(33), both set in 2013.

- He is the only Bengals passer to throw for 300-plus yards in four consecutive games (2013).
- He is the only Bengals QB ever to catch a TD pass. He scored on an 18-yard gadget connection from WR Mohamed Sanu vs. Tennessee in 2014.
- He opened his career with 77 consecutive regular-season starts, a Bengals record for quarterbacks at any point during a career. The previous mark had been 61, posted by Boomer Esiason from 1985-89.

Keep an eye on Andy: QB Andy Dalton owns a 69-61-2 record as a starter, good for the second-best winning percentage (.530) of any Bengals QB with 10 or more starts (Virgil Carter, .545, 12-10). And as the numbers have shown, the Bengals' success is tied closely to that of their QB.

The Bengals are 39-10 (.800) when Dalton achieves a passer rating of at least 100, with wins in 11 of their last 17 such instances. Conversely, Cincinnati is just 10-29 (.256) when Dalton's passer rating is 70 or lower, with losses in the last 17 such instances.

Dalton has thrown at least two TDs 64 times in his career, and the Bengals are 41-22-1 (.648) in those contests. In his 24 games with at least three TD passes, the Bengals are 22-2 (.957) — the only outliers are a 2012 loss at Cleveland, and a 38-35 overtime loss at Miami in Week 16 this season. Conversely, the Bengals are just 6-18 (.250) when Dalton is held without a TD pass, and haven't won such a game since 2014 at Cleveland.

A similar trend is true with passing yardage. In the 53 instances of Dalton topping 250 passing yards, the Bengals are 29-23-2 (.556). He's topped 300 yards 28 times, with Cincinnati going 15-12-1 (.554) in those contests. But when he is held under 150 passing yards, Cincinnati is just 6-11 (.353).

Cincinnati has also proven tough to beat when Dalton is at his most accurate. When he completes at least 65 percent of his passes (minimum 20 attempts), the Bengals are 36-15-1 (.702), including wins in eight of their last 12 such games. And when that completion percentage jumps to at least 70, the Bengals are 21-6-1 (.768), with wins in 12 of their last 15 such games. Cincinnati, however, is just 5-19 (.208) when Dalton's completion percentage is 55 or lower.

'Ice-Water' Andy: Bengals QB Andy Dalton has 24 career game-winning drives, the most in Bengals history ahead of Boomer Esiason (22).

A game-winning drive is defined as a drive that results in an offensive score in the fourth quarter or overtime that is responsible for putting the team ahead to stay (PATs included).

The Bengals' record for most game-winning drives in a season is five, set by former QB Jeff Blake in 1996, and then tied by former QB Carson Palmer in '09. Dalton had four game-winning drives in 2018, despite missing the final five games due to a season-ending thumb injury.

Since 2011, the year the Bengals drafted him, Dalton's 24 game-winning drives are fifth-most in the NFL.

Here's a look at the NFL quarterbacks with the most game-winning drives in the fourth quarter or overtime since 2011.

QUARTERBACK	TEAM	GAME-WINNING DRIVES SINCE 2011
Matthew Stafford	Detroit	32
Russell Wilson	Seattle	28
Drew Brees	New Orleans	27
Matt Ryan	Atlanta	25
Andy Dalton	Cincinnati	24
Eli Manning	N.Y. Giants	23

'Crazy Legs' Andy: QB Andy Dalton's 21 career rushing TDs not only put him in rare company in team history, he also is among the best when compared to his current NFL peers. In the category of rushing TDs by a QB, only Carolina's Cam Newton, whose 58 are beyond similarity, ranks higher than Dalton since 2011. Dalton and Dallas QB Dak Prescott (21) stand tied for second behind Newton, with Russell Wilson (19) and Josh Allen (17) not far behind.

15 carries for Gio does the trick: Over his now seven seasons in Cincinnati, Giovani Bernard has carved out a spot among the top dual-threat running backs in team history.

But when examining Bernard's workload specifically as a rusher throughout his career, a significant trend becomes apparent — the Bengals are 10-1-1 in games in which Bernard has at least 15 rushing attempts. Bernard has not yet reached 15 carries in a game in 2019, however Cincinnati was 1-0 in 2018 when Bernard hit the mark (15 rushes for 69 yards in Game 4 at Atlanta).

In the 12 games in which Bernard has reached 15 carries, he has averaged 78.4 yards, scored seven rushing TDs and topped 100 yards three times.

The Huber roundup: Long considered the top punter in Bengals history, 11th-year pro Kevin Huber now has the career records to back up that claim. Already a considerable presence in the Bengals' record book heading into last season, Huber moved into first place in the only two remaining career punting categories in the Bengals' record book.

Huber now stands first in team history in the following categories:

- Punts (840)
- Punting yards (37,845)
- Gross average (45.05)
- Net average (39.98)
- Inside-20 punts (295)

Huber has also taken over many of the Bengals' single-season and single-game records. Among them are:

- He holds the top four Bengals season averages in gross yardage and the top five Bengals season averages in net. His gross record is 46.84, and his net record is 42.10 — both were set in 2014.
- He shares the team record for longest punt (75 yards) with Kyle Larson.
- His 33 inside-20 punts in 2012 is a single-season franchise record.
- His six inside-20 punts on Sept. 14, 2017 vs. Houston are tied with Lee Johnson (Nov. 2, 1997) for the most in a game in Bengals history.

Looking at first-year Bengals coaches: When Zac Taylor was named Bengals head coach on Feb. 4, questions immediately surfaced about how quickly he could return the team to success. But even the best coaches in Bengals history have taken time to right the ship.

Here's a look at the nine previous Bengals head coaches' records in their first full season as the team's head coach.

HEAD COACH	1ST FULL SEASON	RECORD
Paul Brown	1968	3-11-0
Bill "Tiger" Johnson	1976	10-4-0
Homer Rice	1979	4-12-0
Forrest Gregg	1980	6-10-0
Sam Wyche	1984	8-8-0
Dave Shula	1992	5-11-0
Bruce Coslet	1997	7-9-0
Dick LeBeau	2001	6-10-0
Marvin Lewis	2003	8-8-0

How rookie head coaches stack up: Over the last 10 seasons (2009-18), first-time NFL coaches in their first full season have gone a combined 304-352 (.463). Here's a look at how many wins those 41 rookie head coaches piled up in their first full regular season.

(NOTE: This includes only rookie coaches who made their NFL head coaching debut at the start of a season.)

25 points does the trick: Since 2011, the Bengals own a 46-2-2 record (.940) when scoring 25 or more points. Only Miami has a better winning percentage, at .972 (35-1-0), when topping the 25-point mark over that span.

The Bengals have reached the 25-point plateau once this season, but it came in 38-35 overtime loss to, ironically, Miami. In 2018, Cincinnati was a perfect 6-0 when scoring 25 points or more, and 0-10 when failing to hit the mark.

Here are the top five teams in the NFL since 2011, in terms of winning percentage, when hitting the 25-point plateau.

TEAM	WINS	LOSSES	TIES	WINNING PCT.
Miami Dolphins	35	1	0	.972
Cincinnati Bengals	46	2	2	.940
New England Patriots	87	8	0	.916
Denver Broncos	53	6	0	.898
Philadelphia Eagles	53	7	0	.883
N.Y. Jets	35	5	0	.875

Dunlap's PD frenzy: Over his now 10 NFL seasons, Bengals DE Carlos Dunlap has earned a reputation as one of the league's best defensive linemen at batting down passes at the line of scrimmage. Dunlap has only furthered that reputation this season, and has seven passes defended this year despite missing two games due to a knee injury.

Dunlap had eight passes defended in 2018, second-most in the NFL among non-DBs. His eight PDs were the third-highest single-season total of his career, behind the 2013 (10) and '16 (15) seasons. His 2016 total led all Bengals defenders and all other NFL defensive linemen, and it was the first time since Cincinnati began recording defensive stats in 1976 that a Bengals defensive lineman had ever led the team in PDs.

To paint a clearer picture of just how effective Dunlap has been at batting passes, here's a list of non-defensive backs in the NFL with the most passes defended since the start of the 2016 season.

PLAYER	POS	TEAM	PDs SINCE 2016
Carlos Dunlap	DE	Cincinnati	37
Alec Ogletree	LB	St. Louis/L.A. Rams/N.Y. Giants	35
Eric Kendricks	LB	Minnesota	34
Deion Jones	LB	Atlanta	31
Luke Kuechly	LB	Carolina	29

Dunlap has played in 13 of Cincinnati's 15 games so far this season. He missed Games 6-7 due to a knee injury.

Dunlap's, Atkins' dominance = team success: Bengals DE Carlos Dunlap and DT Geno Atkins entered the NFL together in 2010 as draft picks of the Bengals, and in the 10 seasons since they've established themselves among the top pass-rushing duos in the league. Most importantly though, the record shows that when Dunlap and Atkins are at their most dominant, it usually spells success for Cincinnati.

The Bengals are 11-6 (.647) when Dunlap records more than one sack, and 8-6 (.571) when Atkins records more than one sack. There have been two instances in which both have had more than one sack in the same game (Bengals are 1-1 in those contests), which means Cincinnati is a combined 18-11 (.621) when getting more than one sack from either player.

The Bengals are 8-1 since the beginning of the 2015 season when Dunlap records more than one sack, with the only outlier coming in a 20-17 overtime loss at Denver in 2015. Dunlap had a career-best three sacks in that Denver game and finished 2015 with a career-high 13.5, second-most in Bengals history. Dunlap has one multi-sack game this season — Game 12 vs. the N.Y. Jets, when he tied his career from the 2015 Denver game with three sacks.

Since 2015, the Bengals are 6-4 when Atkins has more than one sack. The Bengals are 0-2 this season when Atkins records more than one sack — two sacks in Game 7 vs. Jacksonville, and 1.5 sacks in Game 10 at Oakland.

Dunlap and Atkins are under contract with the Bengals through the 2021 and '22 seasons, respectively. Dunlap (79 sacks) currently stands second on the Bengals' all-time sack list, and Atkins (75.5) is third. The Bengals' leader in career sacks is DE Eddie Edwards, with 83.5.

Dunlap, Atkins neck-and-neck in career sacks: Just 3.5 sacks separate Bengals DE Carlos Dunlap (79 sacks) and DT Geno Atkins (75.5), who rank second and third, respectively, on Cincinnati's all-time sack list behind all-time leader Eddie Edwards (83.5). And now that Edwards' record is within sight, the race is on to see which player catches him first.

Dunlap, a two-time Pro Bowler (2015 and '16) who turned 30 after the '18 season, has a 6.5 sacks this season. He entered the year 1.5 sacks ahead of Atkins, but fell behind after missing two games (Games 6-7) due to a knee injury.

Dunlap, though, re-took the lead in impressive fashion in Game 12 vs. the N.Y. Jets, when he tied a career high with three sacks. Dunlap averaged 8.1 sacks over his first nine NFL seasons, while Edwards averaged just under seven over 12 seasons. In 2015, Dunlap set a career-high in sacks, with 13.5, the second-most in Bengals history.

Atkins, who missed nearly half of the 2013 season with a torn ACL, has more than double the number of sacks of the next-closest interior defensive lineman in Bengals history (Tim Krumrie, 34.5). Atkins has 4.5 sacks this season, including two multi-sack performances — Game 7 vs. Jacksonville (two), and Game 10 at Oakland (1.5). Last season, he had a team-high 10 sacks, the third-highest single-season sack total of his career (he had a career-high 12.5 in 2012, and 11 in '15). Atkins has finished with at least a share of the NFL lead for sacks by an interior lineman five times in nine previous NFL seasons, including in three of the last four years (see "Geno looks to re-claim his crown").

NOTE: The NFL has counted sacks as official statistics since 1982. However, the Bengals have sack statistics compiled since 1976 and recognize those sacks recorded from '76-81 in its records. Thus, please note that, because the NFL has sacks statistics for all teams only since 1982, the Bengals' sack statistics for players whose careers included seasons prior to '82 will not be included in league information.

Geno on HOF pace: Bengals DT Geno Atkins, who is playing his 10th NFL season in 2019, currently stands at 75.5 career sacks, third in team history and the most ever by a Bengals interior defensive lineman.

But a closer look reveals that Atkins is on a Hall-of-Fame pace. When compared to defensive tackles in the Pro Football Hall of Fame, Atkins compares quite favorably at this point in his career.

Here's a look at the sack totals of notable Hall-of-Fame DTs through their 10th seasons, as well as where they stood at the end of their careers. It should be noted that Atkins missed nearly half of the 2013 season, due to a torn ACL.

(NOTE: This list includes only DTs whose careers started after 1982, when the NFL began counting sacks as official statistics):

NAME	YEARS ACTIVE	THRU 10 SEASONS	CAREER SACKS
John Randle	1990-2003	106.0	137.5
Warren Sapp	1995-2007	79.5	96.5
Geno Atkins	2010-present	*75.5	*75.5
Cortez Kennedy	1990-2000	57.0	58.0

*—Atkins is 15 games into his 10th NFL season.

Geno looks to re-claim his crown: Bengals DT Geno Atkins entered this season looking to reclaim a crown that, for all intents and purposes, has been his for much of this decade. In nine previous NFL seasons (2010-18), Atkins has five times finished in at least a tie for most sacks by an NFL interior defensive lineman. He claimed it outright in 2012 (12.5 sacks), '16 (nine) and '17 (nine), while sharing it in '11 (7.5) and '15 (11).

Atkins, though, will likely have to wait until next year to regain his crown. With just one week remaining in the NFL season, Atkins (4.5 sacks) stands eight sacks behind the NFL's leader among interior defensive linemen, Rams DT Aaron Donald (12.5).

Last season, Atkins had a team-high 10 sacks but finished two short of the top spot, held by 49ers DT DeForest Buckner (12). It marked the first time in the previous four seasons that Atkins failed to finish in at least a tie for the lead.

Atkins has been selected to the Pro Bowl eight times in his 10 Bengals seasons. Those eight selections are the most by a Bengals defensive player in team history, ahead of CB Lemar Parrish (six), and no other Bengals defensive lineman has been selected more than twice. His eight selections are the second-most by any Bengal, behind Hall of Fame OT Anthony Munoz. Atkins currently stands at 75.5 career sacks, the most by a Bengals interior lineman and third overall.

Two Bengals hail from Queen City: Two Bengals — DE Sam Hubbard and P Kevin Huber — grew up in Greater Cincinnati.

Hubbard, a Moeller High School alum and former Ohio State standout, is now in his second season with the Bengals. A third-round draft pick (77th overall) a year ago, Hubbard followed up a productive rookie season by earning the Bengals' No. 1 RDE spot in preseason. He has a team-high seven sacks this season.

"It's insane," Hubbard said after being drafted by his hometown Bengals. "Seeing that 513 area code pop up on my phone on draft day was just incredible. To get an opportunity to represent the city of Cincinnati one more time, and to do it for the pro team in this city, is a dream come true. I watched every game the Bengals played. I was there when Carson Palmer got hurt in the playoffs (in the 2005 season). I've just always been a big fan."

Huber, an Anderson Township native and alum of McNicholas High School and the University of Cincinnati, was a fifth-round draft choice of the Bengals in 2009. He has played in all but two games throughout his career in Cincinnati, and he currently stands as the Bengals' career leader in both gross (45.05) and net (39.98) punting average.

Huber and his wife, Mindi, have been active in the local community throughout his Bengals career. The couple started their own charity, The Foundation for Underserved Rescues, which "provides resources and support to underserved Cincinnati-area animal rescues."

It should also be noted that Bengals have a third player with Cincinnati ties. Rookie G Michael Jordan was born in Fairfield, Ohio, just outside of Cincinnati, but his family moved and he attended high school in Michigan.

Bengals draft picks stick in NFL: A familiar trend has emerged this season regarding which teams have the most keen eye for talent in the draft, and the Bengals again are toward the top of the list. As of Monday (Dec. 23), there were 44 players on NFL rosters who entered the NFL as draft picks of the Bengals, four shy of Baltimore (48) for the most of any team in the NFL.

Cincinnati was among the top three teams all of last season as well, and even held a double-digit lead over the second place team early in the year before 13 qualifying players landed on the Bengals' Reserve/Injured list. Only players on active 53-man rosters are counted in this data.

Of the 53 players on Cincinnati's active roster on Monday (Dec. 23), 38 entered the NFL with the Bengals — 29 as draft picks, and nine as college free agents.

Of the Bengals' 29 draft picks on their roster, six were first-round picks, six were second-rounders, four were third-rounders, five were fourth-rounders, four were fifth-rounders, two were sixth-rounders and two were seventh-rounders.

It should also be noted that the Bengals have seven former draft picks currently on Reserve lists, including former first-rounders OT Jonah Williams and CB Dre Kirkpatrick.

Here's a look at the teams with the most draft picks on an active NFL roster, as of Monday, Dec. 23.

TEAM	DRAFT PICKS ON NFL ROSTERS
Baltimore Ravens	48
New England Patriots	47
Seattle Seahawks	46
Cincinnati Bengals	44
Minnesota Vikings	44

Bengal bites: The NFL's Next Gen Stats service, which tracks players' speed by using GPS, clocked S Brandon Wilson's (Reserve/Injured) kickoff return for a TD in Game 6 at Baltimore at 22.03 MPH, the third-fastest in the NFL this year, and fastest by a Bengal since NGS' launch in 2016 ... Three Bengals on the 53-player roster have changed uniform numbers since preseason — CB Darius Phillips now is No. 24, CB B.W. Webb now is No. 23 and WR Damion Willis now is No. 15 ... There is a tie for the tallest Bengal between QB Jake Dolegala and OT Isaiah Prince, who are both 6-7 ... The shortest Bengal is HB Trayveon Williams, who is 5-8 ... There is a tie for heaviest Bengals player between DT Josh Tupou and OT Cordy Glenn, who are both 345 pounds ... The lightest Bengal is CB Tony McRae, who is 185 pounds ... The oldest Bengal is LS Clark Harris, who is 35 (born July 10, 1984) ... The youngest Bengal is G Michael Jordan, who is 21 (Jan. 25, 1998).

BENGALS QUOTES

Head coach Zac Taylor, on the overall state of the team:

"We're in this thing together. We genuinely care about each other, and we've put in a lot of work. If we stay the course and we believe in what we're doing and we believe in the people we're doing it with, good things are going to happen. We know good things are coming our way. We just have to keep working."

Taylor, on the team's future:

"If you're a competitor, you're frustrated that the season has gone the way it has because you're in it to win football games. You're in it to win championships. I have always had the vision of celebrating championships with the city of Cincinnati, but there's a lot of work that goes into it before we get to that point. We have a lot of people that believe in the same vision and are willing to put in the hard work. We're going to get there, and I'm really excited about it. Despite of the season we've had (this year), we know that the future is very bright, and we cannot wait to put in the work to get us to where we want to be."

Taylor, on what he learned from his first year as a head coach:

"You learn how to handle the fact that not everything is going to be perfect — that not everything is going to be the way you envisioned it. You picture coming right in, winning every game and going to the Super Bowl. That's the dream. But your day-to-day work has to match that dream you have, for the future, and that work must be improved upon every week. We have to be real with ourselves as a staff and as players and ask, 'What can we do better to win more now, and in the future?' Now that we have a whole season under our belt, you think to yourself, 'OK, here's how we can improve.' I'm certainly excited to do all of that. It's not easy to put into words how much I've learned. You learn a lot, especially in the first year in a job like this. I am fortunate to have really good people around me that have helped me along the way."

Taylor, on whether it is difficult to tune out the talk and speculation about the draft and the franchise's future:

"No. We're really good at staying focused on what's important. Truthfully, the only time I hear it is in press conferences, because we're pretty isolated from the outside world. But I will say that the reason you want to be here in Cincinnati, and in the NFL in general, is because of the passion of the fans. One way or another, they care. They want good things for this team, however they want it. That's why I love being in this profession and having the opportunity to lead this team, because when you do get things turned around and going the right way, that passion is going to be in the stadium with us, pulling for us. Those are the reasons you do it. We know we have to put in the work and make ourselves better, but when it comes, it will be a lot of fun."

Taylor, on his feelings after the team's first win (Game 12 vs. N.Y. Jets):

"I'm proud of all of them — proud of the coaches, proud of the players for sticking together (through the 11-game losing streak) and earning this win. It's emotional. You go through it with all of these guys. And to finally get it, it feels really good."

Taylor, on his team's attitude throughout the 11-game losing streak to start the season:

"It's easy to give up. It's even easier to start pointing fingers. That's what we didn't see anybody do. It speaks to the leadership we have, throughout the building, really, that we stuck together and found the positives."

WR Tyler Boyd, on what it meant to give Zac Taylor his first win on Dec. 1 vs. the N.Y. Jets:

"Everything. He always continued to push us. He never lost his mind, he never snapped, he never felt like we were a losing team. In spite of our record, he knew we were better than what it showed. He continued to be a great head coach and put us in positions to win, and I'm sure he'll continue to do that. If we go out and execute the game plan, we'll keep getting wins."

Taylor, on how QB Andy Dalton handled quarterback changes this season:

"Andy has handled it as well as you could hope any veteran would. He wants to play and feels he can help the team win, but at the same time, he was still a leader for us and going about things the right way when he wasn't the starting quarterback. He and I have always had a relationship where we can be open with each other. We appreciate that, and now we're relying on him to help us win games, and he's taking that on."

QB Andy Dalton, on breaking Ken Anderson's team records for passing TDs and completions:

"I've been here a long time. It means a lot to me to have the opportunity to break Ken's records — I've known him for a while. (Setting records) also shows that I've been consistent here for a long time. I've been lucky to have played on some good offenses with good players here. It is cool to break those records, and it gives me bragging rights now."

Taylor, on handling the offensive play-calling responsibilities:

"It leaves you with a lot on your plate, but at the same time I know what I want this thing to look like. (Offensive coordinator) Brian Callahan and I are in lockstep. We're on the same page, along with all the other coaches in this offense. It may be me calling the plays, but everybody has input. Even at practice, I'm listening to Brian and some of the other coaches talk about ideas. Even though it's coming out of my mouth, it doesn't mean the ideas for play-calls are solely coming from me. (Communication between us) is something we practice, and it's important that everyone is equally involved."

Offensive coordinator Brian Callahan, on the offense being without injured WR A.J. Green for the entire season:

"Listen, we all wanted A.J. out there. Everyone wanted him. When you have those (premier players), you want to find ways to use them. But there are instances where you may not have them. You want to always stay true to what you believe offensively is going to help you win games. If that involves featuring matchups with a guy as dynamic as A.J., then that's going to be part of it. If we don't have him, we will move other pieces around to get the best matchups to help us win games."

Taylor, on HB Giovani Bernard, who signed a contract extension just prior to the opener:

"He's consistent with his approach every day. You know what you're getting from him. He's very detailed with his craft — he's a good runner, he's a good receiver and he's a good protector. He fits all three of those traits that you want in a running back, and particularly in a No. 2 running back, because Joe gets the majority of the touches. Gio has always been reliable and goes about it the right way. He sets a great example for the other players on this team. He's very deserving of what he received (with a contract extension) and I'm happy for him."

OT Bobby Hart, on blocking for HB Joe Mixon:

"It's fun. He's so physical. He runs so well, and for a big back to be as fast as he is ... he does a great job. Guys don't want to tackle him. It's always good for us (the blockers) be the reason why he's able to do those things. You never want to be the reason why he's not able to play to the best of his ability."

HB Joe Mixon, on the Bengals' recent rushing success:

"We've done a good job up front, and the receivers on the perimeter are blocking. I hope we build on it. I think that's what's going to help us in these late-season games — running the football and controlling the line of scrimmage."

Taylor, on offensive line coach Jim Turner:

"Our experience working together (in the past) has great value. We see protections the same way, the run game the same way (and) the cadences the same way. We are on the same page. ... I believe in Jim. I've seen him coach for six years live and in person now. I've seen what he has gotten out of players and the way he has developed players. Jim's attention to detail is unmatched. Our offensive linemen are going to be disciplined and know how we want it done. I don't believe in anybody more than I believe in Jim to get that job done."

Offensive line coach Jim Turner, on Trey Hopkins earning the starting center position in 2019:

"We feel like Trey helps us win at center better than anybody else on our team. As far as the performance of playing center and all the things that go into that position, Trey's got a lot of experience. When you watch the tape over Trey's career, he has done a heck of a job, and he has developed into a heck of a player. We expect a lot out of him now, having given him this responsibility."

Callahan, on TEs C.J. Uzomah and Tyler Eifert:

"There's no question — when we put those guys in different positions in formations, they do a lot for us both as coverage indicators and as pieces in the passing game. On top of that, they can run block well. We're able to run a lot of different things with them in the lineup."

Tight ends coach James Casey, on using TEs C.J. Uzomah and Tyler Eifert on the field at the same time:

"It opens up so many possibilities with both those guys on the field. I don't think C.J. gets enough credit for how well he runs and catches the ball, and I don't think Tyler gets enough credit for how well he does blocking."

CB B.W. Webb, on defensive coordinator Lou Anarumo:

"Lou is very strategic about what he calls and has a lot of confidence in his players. That's very big for us — for our confidence — when a coach trusts you enough to put you in certain positions against the opponent's best players. He knows what the offense wants to do against us, so he just prepares us throughout the week, and we trust him."

CB William Jackson III, on defensive coordinator Anarumo and the defense's recent turnaround:

"Lou's a great coach, and he stayed on us about the little details (during the 11-game losing streak). You can see it paying off now. He has been on us hard, and this defense is really coming together as one now."

Defensive coordinator Lou Anarumo, on DE Carl Lawson:

"He's a powerful guy. I watched Cam Wake do it for six years (with the Miami Dolphins). Carl has the same body type and can also jack up 300-pound tackles in the run game. And Carl has that same kind explosion. I think Carl's an all-around player, for sure."

POSITION BY POSITION

Quarterbacks: After starting the first eight games of the season and then being moved to a reserve role for three games, veteran Andy Dalton has returned as the starting quarterback for the final portion of the season. In Game 15 at Miami, Dalton threw four touchdowns, which aided in his efforts of cutting into a 23-point Dolphin lead, eventually evening the score and forcing overtime. Despite losing in the waning seconds of overtime, Dalton finished with 396 passing yards and a 104.5 passer rating. In his return to the starting position in Game 12 against the Jets, he led the Bengals to their first victory of the season by virtue of his 243 passing yards and touchdown pass. Through his first eight games, Dalton ranked second in the NFL in passing attempts (338) and fifth in completions (204). In Game 8 at the L.A. Rams (London), Dalton completed 32 passes en route to 329 yards and one touchdown through the air. In Game 7 vs. Jacksonville, Dalton totaled four rushes for 33 yards and collected his third rushing touchdown of the season. In Game 5 vs. Arizona, Dalton posted a season-high 107.6 passer rating, his highest output since Game 4 of 2018, when he notched a 109.5 rating at Atlanta. In the opener at Seattle, he set career-highs in completions (35) and passing yards (418), en route to a 106.5 passer rating. Dalton owns a 69-61-2 regular-season record as a starter, good for the second-best winning percentage (.530) of any Bengals QB with 10 or more starts. He stands as the Bengals' all-time leader in career passer rating (87.6), 300-yard passing games (28), career completions (2741) and passing TDs (203). He is currently second in passing yards (31,404) and completion percentage (61.20). His 203 career TD passes and 117 INTs are good for a ratio of 1.74-to-1, the best in Bengals history ahead of second-place Carson Palmer at 1.54-to-1 (154-100). Dalton's 22 total TDs in his career are the most ever by a Bengals QB, ahead of Ken Anderson (20); his 21 career rushing TDs are also the most ever by a QB, ahead of Anderson (20). Dalton has posted 49 career games with a passer rating at or above 100, and the Bengals' record in those contests is 39-

10 (.796). After serving as the second-string quarterback for the first eight games of 2019, rookie Ryan Finley took the reins as the starting signal-caller for Game 9 vs. Baltimore. After three starts, however, he is back in his secondary role. Finley completed 41-of-87 passing attempts (47.1 percent), totaling 474 yards, two touchdowns and two interceptions. In his debut, Finley passed for 167 yards on 16-of-30 passing, with a touchdown pass to TE Tyler Eifert for his first-career score. The Bengals traded up in April's draft to select Finley, from N.C. State, in the fourth round. Finley left N.C. State with the top career completion percentage (.645) in school history. Despite playing only three seasons (2016-18) at N.C. State, Finley finished his career ranked third in ACC history in both passing yards (10,505) and 300-yard passing games (18). Finley began his college career at Boise State (2013-15), then graduated and played his final three seasons ('16-18) at N.C. State. Perhaps the biggest surprise of training camp was the play of college free agent Jake Dolegala of Central Connecticut State, a tall (6-foot-7), athletic and strong-armed passer who impressed in a little more than one game of action in preseason. In college, Dolegala set school records for career passing yards (8129) and TDs (48). Dolegala has not yet played this season.

Running backs: HB Joe Mixon now is in his third season with the Bengals, after a 2018 campaign in which he rushed for 1168 yards and became the first Cincinnati HB ever to lead the AFC in rushing yards in a season (Paul Robinson led the AFL in rushing as a rookie in 1968). Through 15 games, Mixon has rushed 252 times for 975 yards and three TDs, and has 34 catches for 273 yards and two TDs. In Game 14 against New England, Mixon rushed 25 times for 136 yards, marking the third time this season that he eclipsed the 100-yard plateau. In Game 13 at Cleveland, Mixon became the first Bengals HB since 2016 to reach 186 yards from scrimmage. Mixon rushed for a career-high 146 yards on 23 carries (6.3), while scoring a TD, and added 40 yards on three receptions in the passing game. In Game 12 against the N.Y. Jets, Mixon found the end zone for his second rushing touchdown on the season. In Game 10 at Oakland, Mixon logged 86 yards and a touchdown on the ground, including a 30-yard run that came on a 12-play drive in the second quarter. Mixon's TD came on the final play of that drive — a three-yard improvisation that he cut back against the grain. In Game 9 vs. Baltimore, Mixon surpassed the 100-yard rushing mark for the first time this season, with 114 yards on the ground. In Game 7 vs. Jacksonville, Mixon collected a receiving touchdown on a two-yard pitch-and-catch from Dalton with 1:25 left to play in the first half. In Game 5 vs. Arizona, he reached 100 yards from scrimmage (93 rushing, 16 receiving) for the time on the year. In Game 3 at Buffalo, Mixon reached the end zone for the first time in 2019 with a one-yard reception in the fourth quarter. In 43 career games (34 starts), Mixon has eight 100-yard rushing performances and 14 games of at least 100 yards from scrimmage. Giovani Bernard, a 2013 second-round pick of the Bengals, again serves in the No. 2 HB role behind Mixon. In Game 8 against the L.A. Rams, Bernard ripped off a season-long 25-yard run. In the opener at Seattle, Bernard caught two passes for 42 yards, including a 35-yarder on a screen pass, which was his longest gain since 2017. Bernard ranks second in Bengals history in both receptions (295) and receiving yards (2483) by a RB, trailing only James Brooks (297 and 3012). Brooks played seven Bengals seasons (1984-91), and Bernard in 2019 is in his seventh season. Bernard also owns the Bengals' record for receiving yards in a game by a RB (128), which he set in 2015 at Arizona, and his 89-yard TD run vs. Carolina in '14 stands as the second-longest rush in team history. New to the Bengals' backfield this season is rookie sixth-round pick Trayveon Williams of Texas A&M. Williams was inactive for Games 1-2 due to a foot injury he suffered in preseason, but has appeared in nine games this season and has seen action on special teams. In three seasons at A&M, Williams had 4176 yards from scrimmage and 35 total TDs. Last season, Williams led the Southeastern Conference in rushing yards (1760) and TDs (18), while ranking second among SEC running backs in receptions (27) and third in receiving yards (278).

Wide receivers: Tyler Boyd has stepped up to be the Bengals' No. 1 receiver this season. Boyd currently leads the Bengals in both receptions (85) and receiving yards (987). In Game 15 at Miami, Boyd scored two crucial touchdowns in the second half that were part of the collective effort of forcing the game into overtime. He also hauled in nine passes and amassed 128 receiving yards — his most this season and third-most in his career. In Game 12 vs. the N.Y. Jets, Boyd reeled in a 17-yard touchdown reception over the middle to give Cincinnati the lead — a lead it wouldn't relinquish en route to its first victory of the season. In Game 11 vs. Pittsburgh, Boyd hauled in five catches for 101 yards and a touchdown. Boyd hauled in a 47-yard deep ball from QB Ryan Finley to set up his 15-yard TD grab late in the second quarter. In Game 5 vs. Arizona, Boyd led the team in receptions (10) and receiving yards (then-season-high 123), and had a 42-yard touchdown catch in the fourth quarter. In Game 2 vs. San Francisco, Boyd had 122 yards on 10 receptions. He now has seven career 100-yard receiving games and three career games with double-digit receptions. Boyd has become one of the most reliable and productive receivers in the league on third down, and currently has 19 third-down receptions, including 16 that have converted first downs. Boyd has caught at least one pass in all 53 of his career games played. Originally a 2016 second-round pick of the Bengals, Boyd signed a contract extension in July that will keep him in Cincinnati through the 2023 season. John Ross III, the Bengals' first-round pick out of Washington in 2017, returned from the Reserve/Injured list to play in Game 13 at Cleveland. Ross suffered a sternoclavicular injury and was placed on the list on Oct. 2. More recently, though, in Game 15 at Miami, he had six receptions for 84 yards. He started the first four games at WR, and caught 16 passes for 324 yards and three TDs. In Game 1 at Seattle, he notched career-highs in receptions (seven), receiving yards (158) and TDs (two), including a 33-yarder on a flea-flicker and a 55-yarder just before halftime that gave Cincinnati the lead. In Game 2 vs. San Francisco, Ross posted 112 receiving yards on four catches, including a career-long 66-yard TD. Known for his record-breaking speed, his 4.22-second 40-yard dash at the 2017 NFL Combine is considered to be the fastest in the event's history. Alex Erickson, a Bengals CFA signee in 2016, has seen time throughout his career at both returner spots, WR and emergency RB. Erickson has played in all 63 games of his NFL career, and has 80 career catches for 931 yards and a TD. In Game 8 against the L.A. Rams, Erickson led the team with 97 receiving yards, including a career-long 52-yard connection in the fourth quarter. Erickson had a career day in Game 7 vs. Jacksonville, notching his first career 100-yard receiving game, while posting career highs in catches (eight) and yards (137), and had a 48-yard catch. Stanley Morgan, a 2019 college free agent signee out of Nebraska, was signed from the practice squad to the active roster on Oct. 2. In Game 7 vs. Jacksonville, Morgan collected his first career special teams tackle, and downed a first-quarter punt at the Jaguars three-yard line. He made his NFL debut in Game 5 vs. Arizona and notched his first career reception with a six-yard catch in the second quarter. Morgan spent four seasons (2015-18) at Nebraska, and set school records in career receptions (189) and receiving yards (2747). Damion Willis, a college free agent out of Troy who entered training camp as a long shot to even make the roster, was the 11th WR to start a season-opener for the Bengals; all 10 of the previous players to do it were drafted in the fourth round or higher. Willis has played in 10 games, made two starts and has nine catches for 82 yards so far this season.

Tight ends: Fifth-year pro C.J. Uzomah, who signed a three-year contract extension (through 2021) with the Bengals over the offseason, is listed as the No. 1 TE on the Bengals' depth chart and has started all 15 games this season. Uzomah has 22 receptions for 217 yards this season, including a career-high 66 yards in Game 1 at Seattle. Last season, Uzomah notched career-highs in catches (43), receiving yards (439) and TDs (three). Tyler Eifert, who was limited to just 14 games from 2016-18 due to back and ankle injuries, has played in all 15 games so far this season. Eifert has 44 catches for 336 yards and three TDs on the year, including 19 third-down catches for 196 yards this season. In Game 15 at Miami, Eifert caught a 25-yard, game-tying touchdown pass with 29 seconds left in regulation that forced overtime. In Game 9 against Baltimore, Eifert hauled in his second touchdown of the season to convert a red zone opportunity. In Game 8 against the L.A. Rams, Eifert posted season-highs in receptions (six) and receiving yards (72). In Game 2 against San Francisco, Eifert collected a one-yard TD in the first quarter, his first score since his 15-yard TD in Game 4 of 2018. When healthy, Eifert has proved to be among the top pass-catching TEs in the NFL. In 2015, Eifert caught 13 TDs (in just 13 games), the most ever by a Bengals TE. Cethan Carter, a third-year player out of Nebraska, appeared in each of the Bengals' first 11 games this season, but exited in Game 11 vs. Pittsburgh with a concussion, and subsequently missed Game 12, but returned the following week. In Game 14 against New England, Carter hauled in his first career reception for an eight-yard touchdown that, at the time, brought the Bengals to a tie with the Patriots. Carter has seen most of his action on special teams, and has six ST tackles this season. Cincinnati signed TE Mason Schreck off the practice squad on Nov. 30 prior to Game 12 vs. the N.Y. Jets, when he made his season debut and contributed primarily on special teams. Schreck, a third-year player, originally was a seventh-round draft pick (251st overall) of the Bengals in 2017. He was limited by knee injuries to just six games over his first two seasons (no statistics), and then spent Games 1-11 of this season on Cincinnati's practice squad.

Offensive linemen: At center is veteran Trey Hopkins, who won the starting job after a strong preseason. Hopkins, now in his sixth season in Cincinnati, is known for his intelligence, versatility (has started all three interior OL spots during his career) and experience (35 career starts). Hopkins and ROT Bobby Hart are the only Bengals offensive linemen to start each of the 15 games this season. Hart, a seventh-round pick of the N.Y. Giants in 2015, signed with Cincinnati in the '18 offseason, and has started all 31 games in his Bengals career. Veteran Cordy Glenn, last year's No. 1 LOT returned back outside after missing the first 10 games of the season. Glenn suffered a concussion in preseason, and missed much of the first half of the season before returning to practice on Oct. 16 and working his way back into playing shape. Glenn also spent Game 7 vs. Jacksonville on the Reserve/Suspended by Club list. Glenn made his 2019 debut in Game 11 vs. Pittsburgh and played every offensive snap. Glenn, who has played all 95 of his career NFL games at LOT, was acquired in a trade with Buffalo during the 2018 offseason. At RG this season is John Miller, an unrestricted free agent signee who spent his first four seasons with the Buffalo Bills. At 6-3, 315, Miller is considered a powerful run-blocker and helped the Bills rank in the top 10 in rushing offense in each of his four seasons with the team. After starting the first 53 games of his NFL career, Miller was inactive for Games 7 and 8 due to a groin injury he suffered in the second quarter of Game 6 at Baltimore. Additionally, Miller sustained a concussion in Game 14 against New England that held him out of Game 15 as well. His status for this week's game against Cleveland is uncertain. In Game 1 at Seattle, rookie G Michael Jordan, a Bengals fourth-round pick and the youngest player on the roster (turns 22 in January), became just the 16th Bengals rookie to start on the offensive line in an opener, the seventh to do so at G, and the seventh to do so after being drafted in the fourth round or lower. Jordan has played in 13 games this season, with eight starts at LG. Billy Price, a 2018 first-round pick (21st overall) out of Ohio State, began the year as a reserve but has since started seven games at LG (Game 3 and Games 6-11) and one game at RG (Game 15). Price was limited during preseason and early in the regular season by a foot injury. New to the Bengals' offensive line is OT/G Fred Johnson, who was acquired on Oct. 14 on waivers from the Pittsburgh Steelers. At a stout 6-foot-6, he has seen an increased workload in recent weeks. Johnson, a rookie out of the University of Florida, originally was a college free agent signee of the Steelers in May. He made his NFL debut in Game 7 vs. Jacksonville and has seen action in five games for Cincinnati. Veteran John Jerry, who signed with the Bengals in June, has played in 11 games this season, with starts at LOT in Games 6-10. Jerry has played in 132 career games, with 106 starts. Entering this season, he had two career starts at LOT. The Bengals claimed OT Isaiah Prince on waivers from the Miami Dolphins on Dec. 6. Prince (6-7, 305), a rookie out of Ohio State, was originally a sixth-round pick of the Dolphins in April's draft. He played in four games for Miami this season, with two starts. In college at Ohio State, he played in 54 career games with 41 starts at RT, and earned first-team All-Big Ten honors as a senior. The Bengals invested a first-round pick in OT Jonah Williams of Alabama, who was slated as the 2019 starter at LOT, but a shoulder injury suffered in OTAs landed him on the Reserve/Physically Unable to Perform list and he has missed his rookie season thus far. Williams returned to practice on Dec. 12, and the team could choose to activate him at any time during the remainder of the season.

Defensive linemen: Considered one of the top interior defensive linemen in football, 10th-year DT Geno Atkins again anchors the Bengals' defensive line and continues his climb up the Bengals' all-time sack list. He's currently third on the team in sacks (4.5), and in Game 10 at Oakland, Atkins was consistently in the Raiders' backfield and logged 1.5 sacks of QB Derek Carr. In Game 7 vs. Jacksonville, Atkins recorded his second and third sacks of the season after dropping Jaguars QB Gardner Minshew two times in a three-minute span. Atkins also recorded a sack in Game 3 at Buffalo. The 10th-year veteran now has 75.5 sacks, third-most in team history, most by a Bengals interior lineman and eight shy of the all-time lead. Atkins in 2018 led the Bengals in sacks (10) for the fifth time in his career. In his nine previous seasons, Atkins has finished in at least a share of the NFL lead for sacks by an interior defensive lineman five different times — he claimed it outright three times (2012, '16, '17) and shared it twice ('11 and '15). Atkins' seven Pro Bowl selections are the most ever by a Bengals defensive player, and tied with teammate A.J. Green for the second-most in team history behind Hall of Fame OT Anthony Munoz (11). Standing in second place on the Bengals' all-time career sack list is 10th-year DE Carlos Dunlap, whose 79 sacks are 4.5 shy of all-time leader Eddie Edwards (83.5). After appearing in 115 consecutive contests and not missing a game since 2012, Dunlap missed Games 6-7 with a knee injury. Dunlap has 6.5 sacks this season. In Game 14 against New England, Dunlap affected the opposing offense by way of six tackles, a sack, a PD and an FF. In the Game 12 matchup vs. the N.Y. Jets, he tied his career high with three sacks of QB Sam Darnold. In addition to pressuring the quarterback consistently, he also had a PD. His other sacks were registered in Game 1 at Seattle, Game 10 at Oakland and Game 11 against Pittsburgh. Also considered one of the NFL's most proficient defensive linemen at batting down passes, Dunlap's 36 PDs since 2016 are tied for the most in the NFL among non-defensive backs over that span. And in 2015, Dunlap's career-best 13.5 sacks were the second-most in a season in Bengals history. Second-year DE Sam Hubbard, a Cincinnati native (Archbishop Moeller High School), has taken over at RDE this season. Hubbard leads all Bengals defensive linemen in tackles (69) leads the team in sacks (seven). In Game 15 at Miami, he grounded a fleeing Ryan Fitzpatrick in overtime that forced a Dolphins punt. In Game 14 against New England, Hubbard brought down QB Tom Brady on a third down play to force a Patriots punt. In Game 12 vs. the N.Y. Jets, Hubbard sacked QB Sam Darnold on another third down and forced a Jets punt. In Game 11 against Pittsburgh, Hubbard chased down QB Devlin Hodges and aided in stalling the drive. In Game 5 vs. Arizona, Hubbard totaled five tackles, including a sack (a five-yard loss). In Game 3 at Buffalo, Hubbard posted six tackles and collected his second career forced fumble (Bengals recovered) after stripping the ball from Bills RB T.J. Yeldon. Hubbard made his first career start in the opener at Seattle, and recorded a team-high 10 tackles, including two sacks of Seahawks QB Russell Wilson. Fourth-year DT Andrew Billings lines up as Cincinnati's No. 1 NT for the second-straight season. Billings has played in every game this season, with 13 starts at NT, and has 32 tackles and a sack. In Game 14 against New England, Billings logged seven total tackles, which were second on the team. Third-year DE Carl Lawson, considered one of the Bengals' most talented young defenders, returned to action this season after having his 2018 campaign cut short by a torn ACL in his right knee. Lawson, though, has been limited to 11 games this season due to a hamstring injury. In Game 13 at Cleveland, Lawson brought down QB Baker Mayfield in the second quarter and aided in stalling the Browns' drive. In game 10 at Oakland, Lawson sacked QB Derek Carr on a third down to force a Raiders punt. Lawson made his second career start in Game 6, and totaled three tackles and a sack. Lawson turned heads in 2017, when his 8.5 sacks led all NFL rookies and tied for the second-most ever by a Bengals rookie. Veteran DT Josh Tupou, who is tied for the heaviest Bengal on the roster, adds a massive run-stuffing presence to the middle of the Bengals' defensive line. After missing the final six games of 2018 due to a torn pectoral muscle, Tupou has appeared in all 15 games this season, has 26 total tackles and he made his first career start in Game 3 at Buffalo. Tupou registered the most productive game of his career in Game 10 at Oakland, when he notched seven tackles and a forced fumble. Andrew Brown, a 2018 Bengals fifth-round draft pick out of Virginia, made the roster this year after spending his rookie season on Cincinnati's practice squad and Practice Squad/Injured list (hand). After being inactive for the first two games this season, Brown has logged time in Games 3-15, and has 14 total tackles. Brown made his first career NFL start in Game 7 vs. Jacksonville and recorded a career-high five tackles. On Dec. 14, the Bengals signed DT Freedom Akinmoladun from the practice squad. Akinmoladun, a rookie out of Nebraska, was originally a college free agent signee of the N.Y. Giants, and had joined Cincinnati's practice squad in November. Akinmoladun was an active/DNP in Game 14 vs. New England, and entered the game as a reserve in Game 15 at Miami.

Linebackers: The Bengals' linebackers are led in 2019 by fourth-year pro Nick Vigil, who has started all 15 games this season and is second on the team in tackles (107). In Game 13 at Cleveland, Vigil logged his second-career interception midway through the first quarter. Additionally, he totaled two PDs on the day. Vigil led the defensive charge in Game 10 at Oakland, posting 12 tackles and his third career fumble recovery. In Game 9 against Baltimore, Vigil recorded his second-career sack when he took down elusive QB Lamar Jackson on a drive that ended with a punt. In Game 6 at Baltimore, Vigil tied his season-high with 13 tackles, and collected a fumble recovery. In addition to his team-high 11 tackles in Game 4 at Pittsburgh, Vigil collected his first career forced fumble (Bengals recovered) after jarring the ball loose from Steelers WR Diontae Johnson. Vigil now has nine career games with 10 or more tackles, including four this season. The Bengals this year invested a third-round draft pick in LB Germaine Pratt of North Carolina State, who began his college career at S before switching to LB. Pratt has played in all 15 games this season. He logged a career-high 11 tackles in Game 15 at Miami, two of which were for losses. He led the team in tackles (nine) in Game 14 against New England, and did it for the first time in his career in Game 11 against Pittsburgh. Pratt made his first career start in Game 6 at Baltimore, and has seen increased playing time since, finding himself in a starting role since Game 9. He has totaled 66 tackles on defense and four on special teams. Last season was Pratt's first as a starting LB, and he ended up leading the Wolfpack in tackles (104) while earning first-team All-ACC honors. Third-year pro Jordan Evans, a 2017 sixth-round pick of the Bengals, has played in 44 career games (nine starts) for the Bengals, seeing time mainly as a rotational linebacker. Evans this year has contributed mainly on special teams, with five tackles. Evans' season highlight to this point was a recovery of an onside kick in Game 15 at Miami, which allowed the offense to drive down the field and score the game-tying touchdown that forced overtime. LaRoy Reynolds signed with the Bengals as a free agent on Sept. 10 and has appeared in all 14 games since. He has three tackles and a PD on defense, and three tackles on special teams. Reynolds, a seventh-year player out of the University of Virginia, previously spent time with the Jaguars, Bears, Falcons and Eagles. Hardy Nickerson, a 2017 college free agent signee out of Illinois, was signed from the practice squad on Nov. 15. Nickerson has bounced between the roster and practice squad over his three seasons. He has played in four games this season, and has four tackles. On Dec. 17, Cincinnati promoted Brady Sheldon from the practice squad to the roster. Sheldon, a first-year player out of Ferris State University, had spent six weeks on the practice squad before being promoted. Sheldon was inactive for Game 15 at Miami. The Bengals acquired Sharif Finch on waivers on Dec. 23 to provide depth on defense. Finch (6-4, 250), a second-year player out of Temple University, originally was a college free agent signee of the Titans in 2018. He has played in 23 games (three starts) for Tennessee over the past two seasons, recording 35 tackles, 3.5 sacks, two forced fumbles and one fumble recovery on defense. He also had nine special teams tackles over that span.

Defensive backs: Shawn Williams, a 2013 third-round draft pick, fills a starting S position for the fourth-straight season, and currently leads the team with 109 tackles. In Game 15 at Miami, Williams he logged his fifth-career game with double-digit tackles (13). Additionally, he grounded QB Ryan Fitzpatrick for his third-career sack. In Game 11 against Pittsburgh, Williams energized the Bengals with a red-zone interception of QB Mason Rudolph. Williams posted the second highest tackle output in Game 10 at Oakland with nine. In Game 5 vs. Arizona, Williams collected his fourth-career game with double-digit tackles (12). Williams posted a team-high nine tackles in Game 3 at Buffalo. At the other safety spot is second-year pro Jessie Bates III, a 2018 second-round draft pick of the Bengals who has started all 31 possible games of his career. Bates has five career games with double-digit tackles, including two this season. After leading the team in tackles (111) a year ago, Bates currently ranks third on the team in tackles, with 100. In Game 15 at Miami, he logged five tackles, accompanied by a PD and an FF. In Game 13 at Cleveland, Bates logged his third interception of the season, which began a drive that ended in a touchdown. In Game 10 at Oakland, Bates jumped a route and intercepted QB Derek Carr for his fifth-career pick. In Game 7 vs. Jacksonville, he recorded 12 tackles, which led the team and tied his career high. In Game 4 at Pittsburgh, Bates collected his first career fumble recovery. Considered one of Cincinnati's most talented young defenders, William Jackson III is in his fourth season as a Bengal, and second as a full-time starting CB. Jackson suffered a shoulder injury in Game 6 at Baltimore, but he returned to action in Game 8 against the L.A. Rams. After playing through Game 15, he reinjured the same shoulder and was forced to exit early. His status for this week's game against Cleveland is unknown. Jackson, the Bengals' first-round pick in 2016, collected his second-career interception in Week 2 with a 19-yard pick off of San Francisco QB Jimmy Garoppolo. His other career INT is a 75-yard pick-six of Packers QB Aaron Rodgers in 2017. Veteran CB B.W. Webb, an unrestricted free agent signee over the offseason, has played this season through a right arm injury he suffered in Game 2. Webb has appeared in 14 games this season and made 11 starts (four at NCB, and seven at CB). In Game 7 vs. Jacksonville, Webb started in place of Jackson and collected three tackles and two passes defended. In Game 5 vs. Arizona, Webb had two tackles and two passes defended, including a pass deflection on third-and-10 that forced a Cardinals punt late in the fourth quarter and set up a Bengals game-tying TD with 2:03 remaining. Webb previously spent time with the N.Y. Giants (2018), Cleveland ('17), New Orleans ('16), Tennessee ('15), Pittsburgh ('14) and Dallas ('13). CB Darqueze Dennard, the Bengals' first-round pick in 2014, began the season on the Physically Unable to Perform list with a knee injury before making his season debut in Game 7 vs. Jacksonville. Dennard recorded five tackles and two passes defended against the Jaguars, but suffered a hamstring injury in the contest that caused him to miss Game 8 against the L.A. Rams. He returned to play in the Game 9 matchup against Baltimore, and had the second-most tackles in Game 10 at Oakland as a starting CB. Dennard has played in 76 career games (24 starts), and has 251 tackles, three INTs, three sacks, 22 PDs, two FFs and a FR. CB Darius Phillips was activated from Reserve/Injured on Nov. 29 after missing games 4-11 due to a knee injury. Prior to his departure, he played in the first three games and recorded one tackle, one INT, and six kickoff returns for 137 yards (22.8 average). He now returns to the defense in a reserve role and serves as the primary kickoff returner. In Game 15 at Miami, he logged three PDs, including an interception of QB Ryan Fitzpatrick. Adding depth at safety is Clayton Fejedelem, a seventh-round pick of the Bengals in 2016 who has become a core special teams player and valuable reserve on defense. Fejedelem has played in all 63 possible games over his career (six starts), and he led the Bengals in special teams tackles in each of his first three seasons. Veteran CB Tony McRae, a reliable contributor on both defense and special teams, also adds depth in the secondary. McRae this season has 15 tackles and a PD on defense, and leads the team with seven tackles on special teams. In Game 8 against the L.A. Rams, McRae logged a career-high five tackles and one PD. New to the defensive backfield is CB Torry McTyler, who the Bengals signed from the Kansas City Chiefs' practice squad on Sept. 26. McTyler, a third-year player out of Nevada-Las Vegas, was originally a college free agent signee of the Miami Dolphins in 2017, and has previous experience playing under secondary/cornerbacks coach Daronte Jones and defensive coordinator Lou Anarumo. McTyler has played in four games for the Bengals this season, and has two tackles on defense. CB Greg Mabin, a rotational CB and third-year player out of the University of Iowa, has spent time on both the active roster and practice squad this season for the Bengals. He's played in eight games (Games 4 and 9-15) and was inactive for another (Game vs. Arizona). He was originally a college free agent signee of the Tampa Bay Buccaneers in 2017, and also spent time with the Buffalo Bills and San Francisco 49ers. He has played in 27 career games (one start), and has 18 tackles, 2 PDs and a forced fumble. S Trayvon Henderson was signed from the Bengals' practice squad on Dec. 7, and fills a reserve role on defense. Henderson, a second-year player who saw his first NFL playing time in Game 13 at Cleveland, originally was a college free agent signee out of the University of Hawaii in 2018. He spent his rookie season on the Reserve/Injured list after suffering a knee injury in preseason. He spent the first 12 games this season on the practice squad, and has appeared in 3 games for the Bengals.

Special teams: After being activated from the Reserve/Injured list on Nov. 29, Darius Phillips slides back into the No. 1 kickoff returner roll, where he excelled earlier in the season prior to his injury. On 15 returns this year, Phillips has amassed 337 KOR yards (22.5). Alex Erickson has been a key contributor for the Bengals in the return game since joining the team as a CFA in 2016. Erickson, though, has seen more action at WR this season due to injuries at that position group, and has just three kickoff returns (for 53 yards) on the year. In Game 4 at Pittsburgh — his first action returning kickoffs this season — Erickson had two returns for 44 yards, including a 25-yard return in the second quarter. Erickson also has posted 156 yards on 23 punt returns this year. Last season, Erickson's 1049 kickoff return yards were second-most in the NFL. As a rookie in 2016, Erickson posted an AFC-best 27.9-yard average on kickoff returns, the second-best mark in team history. Eighth-year pro Randy Bullock has served as the Bengals' placekicker since midway through the 2016 season, when he joined Cincinnati on waivers from Pittsburgh. So far this season, Bullock is 21-for-21 on PATs and 25-for-29 on FG attempts. In Game 15 at Miami, Bullock lifted the team with a pair of noteworthy kicks. First, he converted a 57-yard field goal in the second quarter, a career-long and the longest field goal in franchise history. Second, he bounded a successful inside kick in the final moments of regulation that set up the game-tying touchdown drive. Handling punting duties again this season is 11th-year pro Kevin Huber, the longest-tenured Bengal on the roster. Huber, a Cincinnati native (McNicholas High School), stands as the Bengals' career leader in every significant punting category, including punts (840), punting yards (37,845) gross average (45.05), net average (39.98) and inside-20 punts (295). He also shares the franchise record for longest punt (75 yards) and owns the Bengals' best career ratio for inside-20s to touchbacks (4.47-to-1; 295-66). Huber, who also serves as the holder for placekicks, has played in 178 of 180 possible games (including postseason) since joining the team as a fifth-round draft pick in 2009. LS Clark Harris, the oldest Bengal on the roster at 35, has served as the Bengals' long snapper since midway through the 2009 season. Harris has been a paragon of reliability throughout his career in Cincinnati, with no unplayable snaps in 1523 attempts as a Bengal (837 punts, 710 placekicks). In 2017, Harris became the first-ever Bengals long snapper to earn a Pro Bowl nod. Harris has also been solid in kick coverage throughout his time in Cincinnati, with 33 career special teams tackles.

2019 GAME SUMMARIES

WEEK 1, GAME 1

Seattle Seahawks 21, Cincinnati Bengals 20 Sunday, Sept. 8, 2019 at CenturyLink Field

Cincinnati outgained Seattle by 196 net yards (395-161), recorded 10 more first downs (22-12) and held more than a 10-minute advantage in time of possession (35:50-24:10), but the Bengals ultimately were inefficient in converting yards into points and lost their first game under new head coach Zac Taylor. The Bengals scored just one FG in three trips inside the Seahawks' red zone in the game. And in the third quarter alone, three times Cincinnati reached Seattle's 36-yard line or farther (36, 27 and 12) and came away with no points (the drives ended on a fumble, a missed FG and a turnover on downs). Seattle, however, scored TDs on three of their four drives into Cincinnati territory overall, including two TDs on their only two trips inside the Bengals' red-zone. QB Andy Dalton had career highs in yards (418) and completions (35) in 51 attempts, tossed two long TDs to WR John Ross III, and had a 106.5 passer rating. Ross had career highs in catches (seven) and receiving yards (158), and his TDs came on passes of 55 and 33 yards. The Bengals' defense enjoyed a solid game overall, recording four sacks and holding the Seahawks, who led the NFL in rushing in 2018, to just 72 yards on the ground. Seahawks QB Russell Wilson, however, stung the Bengals with a 44-yard TD pass to WR Tyler Lockett on the first play of the fourth quarter for what ultimately were the game's winning points.

WEEK 2, GAME 2

San Francisco 49ers 41, Cincinnati Bengals 17 Sunday, Sept. 15, 2019 at Paul Brown Stadium

The game started poorly right away for Cincinnati — a penalty erased a kickoff return, followed by a sack, then by a fumble on QB-RB exchange for no gain, then a failed third-down conversion attempt, and then a punt that barely made it to midfield. And, largely, the game was all downhill from there for the Bengals. The 49ers scored TDs on three of their first four drives to jump out to a 21-7 first-half lead and never looked back. San Francisco beat the Cincinnati soundly on both sides of the ball, outgaining the Bengals in total net yards 572-316, including 259-25 rushing. There were some individual positives for Cincinnati, as WR Tyler Boyd had 10 catches for 122 yards, and WR John Ross III had four catches for 112 yards and a TD. The 49ers improved to 2-0. The Bengals fell to 0-2.

WEEK 3, GAME 3Buffalo Bills 21, Cincinnati Bengals 17
Sunday, Sept. 22, 2019 at New Era Field

Cincinnati's offense stalled for nearly the entirety of the first two quarters en route to a 14-0 halftime deficit, and the early ineffectiveness ultimately doomed the Bengals' late efforts for a comeback win against an undefeated Buffalo team in a stadium packed with rowdy Bills fans. The Bengals, who failed to produce a first down until the two-minute warning of the first half, had just 76 total net yards at intermission. Still, when they kick-started their offense in the second half, the Bengals scored 17 unanswered points to take a 17-14 lead with just under five minutes left. The Bills, however, responded with a late seven-play, 78-yard drive, which was highlighted by a 49-yard pass from QB Josh Allen to TE Dawson Knox in which Knox stiff-armed and bulldozed his way deep into Bengals territory, and ended in a one-yard TD run by RB Frank Gore. QB Andy Dalton drove the Bengals 42 yards to the Bills' 28-yard line with 20 seconds left, but his next pass bounced off the outstretched hand of WR Auden Tate and was intercepted by Buffalo CB Tre'Davious White to seal the Bills' win. The Bengals fell to 0-3, while the Bills improved to 3-0.

WEEK 4, GAME 4Pittsburgh Steelers 27, Cincinnati Bengals 3
Monday night, Sept. 30, 2019 at Heinz Field

A FG by K Randy Bullock gave Cincinnati a 3-0 lead after one quarter of the 100th meeting between the Bengals and Steelers, but Pittsburgh scored 27 unanswered points in the final three quarters and cruised to a dominant 27-3 win on Monday Night Football. Both teams entered the matchup 0-3, and the Steelers were without QB Ben Roethlisberger (Reserve/Injured; elbow) for the first time in a game against the Bengals since 2003. But Roethlisberger's replacement, QB Mason Rudolph, filled in admirably, completing 24 of 28 passes for 229 yards, two TDs and no INTs (124.6 passer rating). His top two targets were RBs James Conner and Jaylen Samuels, who combined for 16 catches for 140 yards and one TD receiving. Samuels also added another TD rushing. Bengals QB Andy Dalton was sacked eight times, the most in his nine-year career, and Cincinnati's offense gained just 175 total net yards. It was the eighth straight win in the series for the Steelers, who improved to 1-3. The Bengals fell to 0-4.

WEEK 5, GAME 5Arizona Cardinals 26, Cincinnati Bengals 23
Sunday, Oct. 6, 2019 at Paul Brown Stadium

Behind 23-9 midway through the fourth quarter, the Bengals rallied to tie the game on a 42-yard TD pass from QB Andy Dalton to WR Tyler Boyd with 1:41 remaining. But Cardinals rookie QB and No. 1 overall draft pick Kyle Murray led Arizona on a six-play, 62-yard drive that ended with a Zane Gonzalez FG as time expired, and Arizona escaped Paul Brown Stadium with a 26-23 win. Despite allowing 514 total yards, including 266 rushing yards and a 7.0-yard rushing average, the Bengals' defense was stout in the red zone, keeping the game close by allowing the Cardinals just one TD on six trips inside the 20. Despite not having two of his top three receivers — John Ross III and A.J. Green, both out due to injury — Dalton completed 71.1 percent of his passes (27 of 38) and leaned heavily on Boyd, who totaled 10 receptions for 123 yards and a TD. The Bengals fell to 0-5, while Arizona improved to 1-3-1.

WEEK 6, GAME 6Baltimore Ravens 23, Cincinnati Bengals 17
Sunday, Oct. 13, 2019 at M&T Bank Stadium

Cincinnati raced to literally the fastest start in team history when S Brandon Wilson took the opening kickoff 92 yards for a score, becoming the first Bengal ever to begin a game returning a kickoff for a TD. But the Ravens answered, scoring on their first three possessions to take a 17-7 lead, and they never looked back. Baltimore, which amassed 497 total yards, leaned heavily on a ground attack that gained 269 yards on 43 rushes and earned a 19-minute edge in time of possession (39:42 to 20:18). The Ravens were led by QB Lamar Jackson, whose 152 rushing yards were the third-most ever in a game by a QB. Cincinnati's rushing offense, on the other hand, struggled to find traction and totaled just 33 yards on 14 attempts. But the game was kept close, and the visiting Bengals pulled to within six with 1:28 remaining when QB Andy Dalton capped a 12-play, 48-yard drive with his 21st career TD (a Bengals QB record). Wilson recovered the ensuing onside kick attempt, but it was ruled that the kick did not travel the required 10 yards, and the Ravens were able to run out the clock. Cincinnati fell to 0-6, while Baltimore improved to 4-2.

WEEK 7, GAME 7Jacksonville Jaguars 27, Cincinnati Bengals 17
Sunday, Oct. 20, 2019 at Paul Brown Stadium

Cincinnati led 7-6 at halftime and 10-9 after three quarters, but the visiting Jaguars scored 18 fourth-quarter points to depart Paul Brown Stadium with a win, leaving the Bengals still in search of their first victory. The Jaguars gained 460 net yards, including 216 rushing, but Cincinnati's defense proved stout in the red zone and held Jacksonville to just one TD on six trips inside the 20. Bengals QB Andy Dalton threw three fourth-quarter INTs, including one in the red zone and another that was returned for a TD. The Bengals' offense struggled to find traction in the ground game, as HBs Giovani Bernard and Joe Mixon were held to a combined two yards on 14 carries, and the Jaguars had nearly a 17-minute advantage in time of possession (38:17 to 21:43). Jacksonville improved to 3-4, while Cincinnati fell to 0-7.

WEEK 8, GAME 8Los Angeles Rams 24, Cincinnati Bengals 10
Sunday, Oct. 27, 2019 at Wembley Stadium (London, England)

The Bengals traveled to London, England, as part of the NFL's International Series, and took on head coach Zac Taylor's former team, the L.A. Rams. The two teams traded scores for much of the first half, before Rams WR Cooper Kupp caught a 65-yard TD on a double-reverse pass that gave L.A. a one-score edge at the break. But while the Bengals' defense managed to hold the Rams to just seven second-half points, the offense struggled after halftime and was held scoreless in the final two periods en route to the defeat. Cincinnati couldn't find an answer for Kupp, whose 220 receiving yards tied for the third-most ever in a game by a Bengals opponent. Bengals QB Andy Dalton tossed his 197th career TD, tying former QB Ken Anderson for most in team history. Then, with :08 remaining and the game out of reach, Dalton connected with WR Auden Tate for what would've been the record-setter, but a replay review overturned the ruling on the field of a catch and nullified the score. Los Angeles improved to 5-3, while Cincinnati fell to 0-8. On Tuesday following the game, Taylor announced that rookie Ryan Finley would take over as the team's starting QB in the Bengals' next game after the bye.

WEEK 10, GAME 9Baltimore Ravens 49, Cincinnati Bengals 13
Sunday, Nov. 10, 2019 at Paul Brown Stadium

The Ravens scored TDs on five of their first six possessions and cruised to an easy 49-13 win at Paul Brown Stadium. Rookie QB Ryan Finley made his first career start, replacing longtime starter Andy Dalton, who was assigned to a reserve role the previous week during the team's bye. Finley played mostly well, passing for 167 yards and a TD against a stout Ravens defense, however he made two costly mistakes — an INT that was returned 89 yards for a TD, and a fumble that was returned 33 yards for a TD. The Ravens were led by second-year QB Lamar Jackson, who became just the third player ever to post a perfect 158.3 passer rating in a game (minimum 15 attempts) against the Bengals (also Oilers QB Chris Chandler in 1995, and Rams QB Kurt Warner in '99). Jackson also impressed with his feet, stunning fans with a 47-yard TD run that featured a highlight-reel spin move. The Bengals fell to 0-9, while the Ravens improved to 7-2.

WEEK 11, GAME 10Oakland Raiders 17, Cincinnati Bengals 10
Sunday, Nov. 17, 2019 at Oakland-Alameda County Coliseum

With the Raiders moving from Oakland to Las Vegas after the 2019 season, the Bengals made perhaps their final trip to the Oakland-Alameda County Coliseum. A TD by Bay-area native Joe Mixon gave the Bengals a 7-0 lead after one quarter, but Oakland outscored Cincinnati 17-3 in the final three periods to earn the win. The Bengals did have two potential game-tying drives late in the fourth quarter, but they turned the ball over on downs and then threw what amounted to a game-sealing INT. Bengals QB Ryan Finley struggled in his first career road start and completed just 41.9 percent of his passes, along with an INT, lost fumble and five sacks. The Bengals fell to 0-10, matching their 1993 season for the worst start in team history. The loss was also their 12th straight dating back to 2018, the longest losing streak in team history. The Raiders improved to 6-4.

WEEK 12, GAME 11Pittsburgh Steelers 16, Cincinnati Bengals 10
Sunday, Nov. 24, 2019 at Paul Brown Stadium

In the first Bengals-Steelers matchup in 16 years that featured neither Andy Dalton or Ben Roethlisberger, the 32nd-ranked Bengals defense played stout and helped Cincinnati to a 7-3 lead at halftime. In the third quarter, Pittsburgh benched starting QB Mason Rudolph in favor of rookie college free agent Devlin Hodges, who tossed a 79-yard TD to WR James Washington on his third pass attempt. The Bengals and starting QB Ryan Finley couldn't muster an answer, and were held to just three points in the second half. Cincinnati's best scoring opportunity came on a 72-yard drive in the fourth quarter, but that ended when WR Tyler Boyd, who had a game-high 101 receiving yards, lost a fumble on the Steelers' six-yard line. Finley struggled in his third start, completing just 12 of his 26 passes (46 percent) for 192 yards and a TD, while also losing a fumble. On Monday after the game, Bengals head coach Zac Taylor announced that QB Andy Dalton would return to the starting role, after serving as a reserve for three games. Pittsburgh improved to 6-5, while Cincinnati fell to 0-11, the worst start in team history.

WEEK 13, GAME 12Cincinnati Bengals 22, N.Y. Jets 6
Sunday, Dec. 1, 2019 at Paul Brown Stadium

After starting the season 0-11, the Bengals put together a dominant performance for their first win of the year, and the first career win for Zac Taylor as head coach. The visiting Jets, who had scored exactly 34 points in each of the three previous weeks (all wins), were held to just two FGs by a Bengals defense that entered the contest ranked 27th in points allowed. The Bengals applied constant pressure to Jets QB Sam Darnold and sacked him four times, including three by DE Carlos Dunlap, while holding the Jets' offense out of the red zone altogether. Bengals QB Andy Dalton returned to the starting lineup, after serving in a reserve role behind rookie Ryan Finley the previous three weeks, and passed former QB Ken Anderson for first place all-time in both career completions and TD passes by a Bengal (Anderson had 197 TD passes, and 2654 completions). The Bengals improved to 1-11, while the Jets fell to 4-8.

WEEK 14, GAME 13Cleveland Browns 27, Cincinnati Bengals 19
Sunday, Dec. 8, 2019 at FirstEnergy Stadium

For just the second time in history, a Bengals-Browns matchup featured two rookie head coaches (Cincinnati's Zac Taylor and Cleveland's Freddie Kitchens) who were facing both each other and their Ohio rival for the first time in the same game. The visiting Bengals gained 451 yards, HB Joe Mixon rushed for a career-high 146 yards and a TD, Cincinnati was plus-one in turnovers, and Browns QB Baker Mayfield was held to just a 38.9 passer rating. But mistakes and situational football doomed the Bengals, who scored just one TD on five trips inside the red zone, converted just three of 12 third downs, threw a pick-six, and committed eight penalties for 99 yards. Trailing by eight points in the fourth quarter, Bengals S Jessie Bates III seemingly set Cincinnati up for a potential game-tying TD when he intercepted a Mayfield pass on Cleveland's 18-yard line. But replay review ruled that there was defensive pass interference on the play, allowing the Browns to continue to drive for a FG. Cincinnati countered with its own late FG, but failed to recover an onside kick with 12 seconds left. The Bengals fell to 1-12; the Browns improved to 6-7.

WEEK 15, GAME 14New England Patriots 34, Cincinnati Bengals 13
Sunday, Dec. 15, 2019 at Paul Brown Stadium

The visiting Patriots entered the game with the NFL's No. 1 ranked defense in both yards and points allowed, but the Bengals were able to control most of the first half with a powerful rushing attack, along with solid defense of their own. Cincinnati HB Joe Mixon looked dominant with 99 yards from scrimmage in the first two quarters, and the Bengals' defense applied constant pressure to Patriots QB Tom Brady, sacking him twice and logging three additional QB hits in the first half. At day's end, however, the Patriots won the turnover battle 5-0, picking off Bengals QB Andy Dalton four times. A 13-10 Patriots halftime lead ballooned to 27-10 midway through the third quarter, and the Patriots tacked on another fourth-quarter TD for the final 21-point win margin. Mixon finished with 25 rushes for 136 yards and three receptions for 20 yards for Cincinnati. The Patriots improved to 11-3, while the Bengals fell to 1-13.

WEEK 16, GAME 15Miami Dolphins 38, Cincinnati Bengals 35 (OT)*Sunday, Dec. 22, 2019 at Hard Rock Stadium

The host Dolphins held a comfortable lead for much of the game and were ahead by as many as 23 points midway through the fourth quarter, but a furious Bengals comeback sent the game into OT. Cincinnati became the first team in NFL history to score 16 points in the game's final 29 seconds, thanks to a pair of Andy Dalton TD passes (and two-point conversions) and a successful onside kick by K Randy Bullock, who earlier in the contest booted a Bengals-record 57-yard FG. But Cincinnati's momentum stalled in OT, and Miami kicked at 37-yard FG as time expired to escape with a 38-35 win. Cincinnati fell to 1-14 and clinched the No. 1 pick in the 2020 NFL Draft, while Miami improved to 4-11.
