PRESEASON NOTES

HEY ROOKIES, WELCOME TO THE NFL

Lions S Will Harris is second on the team in solo tackles (10) and tied for second in total tackles (11). In Week 3 vs. Buffalo, he scooped up a special teams fumble to produce his second-straight game with a fumble recovery. In Week 2 at Houston, he led the team with six tackles (five solo), had a pass defense and returned a fumble 19 yards for a touchdown in Week 2 of the preseason at Houston.

He is one-of-two defensive players in the NFL to return a fumble for a touchdown this preseason and became the first Lions player to do so since CB Chris Houston returned a fumble 14 yards for a score vs. Cleveland on Aug. 28, 2010.

Harris is also the only player in the NFL to recover fumbles on defense and special teams this preseason.

Lions CB Amani Oruwariye leads the team with 13 tackles (12 solo). His 12 solo tackles rank as the third-most by any rookie and most by a cornerback in the NFL this preseason.

He currently ranks seventh in the NFL among receiving yards by a tight end, and sixth among tight ends who have only played three games this preseason.

PRESEASON NOTES

RIPPING THE FOOTBALL LOOSE

The Lions have been among the preseason's best at prying the football loose. After S Will Harris recovered a fumble forced by DE Romeo Okwara and returned it for a touchdown in Week 2 at Houston, the team kept it up vs. Buffalo in Week 3. CB Justin Coleman forced a fumble on defense that DB Quandre Diggs recovered, and S C.J. Moore forced a special teams fumble that Harris scooped up. This marked the first time the Lions have forced and recovered fumbles on defense and special teams in the same preseason game since Aug. 10, 2001 vs. Cincinnati. This also marked the first time since Weeks 1-2 of the 2014 preseason that the team has forced and recovered fumbles on defense in consecutive games.

KICKING AND SCREAMING

Lions P Ryan Santoso continues to excel as both a punter and kicker. In the preseason opener vs. New England, he notched four punts for 187 yards (46.8 avg., 38.3 net), launching a long of 55 yards and pinning one punt inside of the 20-yard line. He also added a 37-yard field goal. In Week 2 at Houston, he punted twice for 84 yards (42.0 avg., 38.5 net) and added an extra point. In Week 3 vs. Buffalo, he punted three times for 137 yards (45.7 avg., 37.3 net), booming a 54-yarder and adding one extra point.

Dating back to last preseason, Santoso is 3-of-3 on field goal attempts and 9-of-9 on extra point attempts. He has also punted a combined 22 times for 1,004 yards (45.6 avg., 39.7 net), landing three punts inside of the 20-yard line.

HE'S GOING THE DISTANCE

Lions K Matt Prater launched a 61-yard field goal at the end of the first half vs. Buffalo in Week 3 of the preseason. The kick bested Prater's previous preseason long, and Lions' preseason long, of 60 yards, which he set at Baltimore on Aug. 27, 2016.

Prater's 61-yard field goal marked the NFL's longest preseason kick since Broncos K Ola Kimrin connected on a 65-yarder vs. Seattle on Aug. 29, 2002.

SUMMERTIME AND THE LIVING'S EASY

A few members of the Lions have had some memorable performances in the past few preseasons.

In 2018, WR Brandon Powell tied for the NFL-lead with 16 receptions, led the NFL with 110 punt return yards, led the NFL with a 15.71 yards-per-punt return average, had an NFL-long 80-yard punt return and was one-of-four players to return a punt for a touchdown.

In 2017, QB Tom Savage led all NFL quarterbacks (among those who attempted at least 30 passes) with a completion percentage of 75.0 after completing 27-of-36 throws for 246 yards and one touchdown. In 2016, he tied the NFL preseason-high with four touchdown passes.

In 2017, QB David Fales set a preseason record by completing a 99-yard touchdown pass as a member of the Miami Dolphins.

In 2015, RB Zach Zenner led the NFL with 183 rushing yards and was tied for third with 249 yards from scrimmage. His 10 rushing first downs also tied for the preseason high.

ROOTED IN HISTORY

The Lions and Browns have met 47 times in the preseason, the most times Detroit has played an opponent in an exhibition. They hold a 25-21-1 record against Cleveland in preseason games, with the first summer matchup coming in Akron, Ohio prior to the 1950 season.

PITTING HIMSELF AGAINST THE ODDS

Lions rookie LB Anthony Pittman signed with the team as an undrafted rookie free agent out of Wayne State, located less than three miles from Ford Field. A lifetime resident of Birmingham, Mich., he hopes to maintain an 85-year franchise streak in which at least one player born in the state of Michigan has played for the Lions.

In his Lions debut vs. New England, Pittman recorded five tackles (three solo) and one quarterback hit. In Week 2 at Houston, he totaled three tackles (one solo) and one quarterback hit. In Week 3 vs. Buffalo, Pittman notched three tackles (two solo) and one tackle for loss.

- QB Matthew Stafford led the Lions to a thrilling, come-from-behind 38-37 win over Cleveland (11/22/09) with one of the most remarkable performances by a rookie quarterback in NFL history. Stafford brought the team back from deficits three different times (21, 3 and 6 points) to either tie or take the lead. The win was Stafford's first career come-from-behind fourth-quarter win.

In the fourth quarter, Stafford was 9-of-12 for 106 yards, threw for two touchdowns, tallied a 141.0 passer rating, and notched his 11th career game-winning drive. The New York native used his final two years of collegiate eligibility to play football at Bryant. He landed on Detroit's roster as an undrafted free agent in May 2019.

From Small Town to Motown

There's a trio of Lions on the roster that have something in common, and it's more than just the Honolulu Blue and Silver they don on gamedays. CB Justin Coleman, CB Darius Slay and DB Tracy Walker are all Brunswick, Ga. natives and attended Brunswick HS.

The defensemen were all coached under the tutelage of Victor Floyd, who witnessed their progression from high school to thriving college careers to the pros. Coleman was passed over by several Power-5 schools, but landed in the SEC with Tennessee. Slay spent two seasons at Itawamba Junior College before transferring to Mississippi State. Walker played collegiately at Louisiana-Lafayette and was Detroit's 2018 third-round draft pick.

Slay and Coleman appeared in the same secondary together for the Pirates, as Slay was just two grades above Coleman in school.

Their coastal, small town of Brunswick – whom Coleman claims only has one road dividing the town – is much different than the Motor City, but all three beam with pride over their hometown.

As of the 2018 season, Brunswick was one of just 48 high schools in the nation that featured three or more alumni on an active roster in the NFL.

About Aboushi

Lions OL Oday Aboushi was born and raised in Brooklyn, N.Y. to immigrant parents. The Palestinian-American is the ninth of 10 successful children – their jobs ranging from lawyers to accountants, and teachers to a football player. A devout Muslim, Aboushi takes great pride in his Palestinian heritage and uses his platform to show other young Arab-Americans that they can pursue their goals and overcome adversity. In 2011, the offensive lineman was honored by former Secretary of State Hillary Clinton, with several other Muslim athletes, commemorating Eid al-Fitr or "Festival of Breaking the Fast."

ONE-LIONERS

You know them by face and jersey number – but the 2019 Lions aren't just making plays on the field. Here's everything they're doing off the field.

LB Steve Longa Fulfills Dream of Becoming a U.S. Citizen

Like many athletes, Longa has a list of goals which he meticulously checks off, one-by-one, upon completion. One goal, an aspiration that has been a long time coming, was finally checked off in April 2019: become a U.S. Citizen. The linebacker was originally born in Cameroon and came to the United States as a political refugee with his family at just 12 years old. Longa's late father, Etienne, who passed away in 2017, was his idol growing up, and due to this bond, becoming a Citizen was so important to the third-year veteran. Longa stated that getting sworn in as an American citizen was one of the most emotional days of his life.

LB Devon Kennard Provides Scholarship Fund

Education is important to Kennard – he owns a bachelor's and master's degree from USC to confirm it. In his spare time, Kennard chooses to share his passion for literacy and education with his community. This offseason, the linebacker took his involvement further than he ever has before. Partnering with the Midnight Gold Program, an afterschool initiative that pairs mentors with underserved youth in Metro Detroit who wish to attend college, he established a $10,000 scholarship fund. Requesting to be fully involved in the selection process, Kennard not only selected the winners, but meticulously read through each essay submission and skimmed student transcripts to enhance his decision.

RB C.J. Anderson's Encouraging Kids to Step Off the Field and into the Classroom

Anderson launched his Dreams Never Die Foundation in his hometown of Vallejo, Calif. in 2017 to provide low-income youth with resources to maximize their potential in academics and/or athletics. Anderson has grown his project from a football camp to a multi-week, educational summer program. This offseason, the summer program, which focuses on STEAM – science, technology, engineering, the arts and math – academics, included trips to LinkedIn and Google, a robotics class and painting. The running back's goal for his foundation is to expose kids to a variety of interests and encourage them to pursue interests in the classroom too.

P Sam Martin's Involvement with Special Olympics

Martin joined Pittsburgh Steelers cornerback, and Special Olympics Global ambassador, Joe Haden in Abu Dhabi, UAE this offseason. Haden, and other players around the League, hosted a flag football clinic in conjunction with the 2019 Special Olympics World Games. The clinic's goal was to introduce the game to the Special Olympics community. The punter also served as an ambassador during the games, where he walked with the United States during the Opening Ceremonies and even awarded medals to the Special Olympics athletes. Entering his seventh season, Martin has been an active volunteer with the Special Olympics organization since high school.
