

Team

- The Browns improved to 4-0 at home for the first time since 1963.
- The Browns overcame a 17-point deficit. It marked the club's largest come-from-behind win since a team-record 25-point comeback at Tennessee on Oct. 5, 2014. This was Cleveland's fourth double-digit comeback win, the most in the NFL this season and the most in a season in Browns franchise history.
- The Browns defense forced third-and-outs on the Texans' first four possessions after halftime and six total three-and-outs in the second half.

CB Denzel Ward

- CB Denzel Ward recorded four tackles and three passes defensed. He leads the team this season with 12 passes defensed. Ward has recorded double-digit passes defensed in eight of his nine seasons.

LB Carson Schwesinger

- LB Carson Schwesinger led the team with 13 tackles. Schwesinger has recorded double-digit tackles in six games this season and 13 in his career. He has recorded at least 10 tackles in three consecutive games and is averaging 12.7 tackles per game during that span.

Defense

- The Browns have gone 55 straight games without allowing a 300-yard passer, the longest active streak in the NFL and the longest streak by any NFL team since the Cowboys went 61 games from 1976-80. It is Cleveland's longest run since a 67-game stretch between 1974-79. The last QB to throw for 300 yards against the Browns was Gardner Minshew for Indianapolis on Oct. 22, 2023.

RB Quinshon Judkins

- RB Quinshon Judkins recorded 71 scrimmage yards (38 rushing and 33 receiving) and scored the game-winning touchdown on a 5-yard rush with 53 seconds remaining. He has four rushing touchdowns this season and 11 in his career.

QB Deshaun Watson

- QB Deshaun Watson completed 25 of 40 passes for 312 yards. He added a season-high 49 rushing yards with one touchdown. Watson joined Joe Flacco (four games in 2023) and Josh McCown (three games in 2015) as the only Browns players to throw for 300 yards in three consecutive starts. Watson surpassed 20,000 career passing yards, increasing his career total to 20,022.
- Watson engineered his sixth fourth-quarter game-winning drive of the season. With the Browns trailing 24-20 with 1:40 remaining, he drove the team 35 yards on three plays to set up a game-winning 5-yard touchdown run by RB Quinshon Judkins with 53 seconds remaining. Watson's six game-winning drives are tied with Bernie Kosar (1986) for the second-most by a Brown in a season, trailing only Brian Sipe's seven in 1979. Watson is the third quarterback since 1970 to lead a game-winning drive in each of his team's first six wins of a season, joining Matthew Stafford in 2016 and Troy Aikman in 1990. Watson's six fourth-quarter game-winning drives are tied for the most in the NFL this season with Denver's Bo Nix.
- Watson has two rushing touchdowns this season and 22 in his career. He also recorded his longest completion of the season, a 65-yard pass to WR Jerry Jeudy, which set up Watson's rushing score. Watson has rushed for 266 yards this season, the fifth-most by a Browns QB in a season.
